Larger City Police Force Urged

Officials Hear Data On Traffic

Expert Raps Street Lighting

By SHELDON BINN

Recommendations for a larger police force and criticism of the city's street lighting were included in an analysis of the traffic program in Mansfield in 1947 released last night by the state highway department.

William Knight, traffic safety supervisor from the state highway department, presented an analysis prepared by the National Safety council, based on performance standards in leading cities in the national traffic safety contest. He spoke in the municipal courtroom.

In the national contest in 1947, Mansfield ranked 14th among the 126 cities in its population group. Mansfield ranked first among nine cities competing in an Ohio traffic safety contest.

The report showed that Mansfield had no modern street lighting, whereas the top 30 cities reported 4.8 miles of modern lights.

Knight pointed out that the white way lights on Main street and several other city thoroughfares might be considered modern.

AIMED WRONG WAY

Ernest Adams, city electrician said, however, that the light from those fixtures was directed upwards and not down on the street as it should be.

Knight asked if a program for adequate street lighting had been prepared. Adams replied that if city council indicates it is willing to make the necessary expenditures, a program could be drawn up in short order.

The report showed the average of the 30 top ranking cities in the national contest in the 25,000 to 50,000 population group had 68 persons in the police department as compared with 42 in Mansfield. It recommended an increase in personnel.

Highlights of the voluminous, highly statistical report follows:

Forty-three per cent of all accidents reported in Mansfield in 1947 involved out of town drivers.

Mansfield appeared to have an accident record system that conformed with prevailing standards and practices, but there was no indication that the resulting information was used in accident prevention, the report stated.

Knight suggested that the reports be used for accident prevention. Robert Garver, acting traf-

See Rigid Labor Law

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A labor law proposal may be submitted to the new 81st Congress that could shatter the iron-clad control exercised by some labor leaders over their unions.

It was learned today that legislation imposing "rigid restrictions" on union trusteeships and provisional officers is being considered by Andrew Jacobs, newly-elected Democratic congressman from Indiana's 11th district.

Aides of the 42-year-old Indianapolis attorney said he already has written members of the House labor committee about his proposal and is seeking advice on it from experts of the Labor department.

Jacobs is expected to vote for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law when the new Democratic-controlled Congress convenes in January but support substitute legislation.

Irate Students Go On Strike

TWINSBURG —(UP)— Some 400 students at Twinsburg high school were scheduled to go on strike at the opening of classes today. The strike reportedly is in protest to the administration of school Superintendent Glen Powell. He could not be reached for comment.

'JEFF' DEHAVEN

DeHaven Will Present N-J Rams Trophy

Robert "Jeff" DeHaven, former Madison high school coach was today added to the fast-growing list of football personalities who will grace the speakers' rostrum at the 13th annual News-Journal football banquet, Nov. 29.

DeHaven will present the N-J trophy to the Madison player chosen by his teammates as the most valuable during the 1948 season. A similar trophy will be presented to the most valuable player from Senior high by another "name" speaker to be announced later.

DeHaven, one of the most popular coaches ever to work here, took over as head coach at Sandusky high this year after five years at Madison. He had previously been in the Mansfield school system as skipper at John Simpson.

Perhaps his greatest achievement was the building of the district championship basketball team at Madison last year. This fall he started a rebuilding program with a down-trodden Sandusky grid team and instilled spirit into the boys which held Mansfield to a 27-13 victory here early in the season.

Featured address at the banquet will be delivered by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, commissioner of athletics for the Western conference.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the News-Journal information desk and the two local high schools. Price for the dinner and entertainment is $2.50.

Big Tyger Send-off Set

With football enthusiasm near its boiling point in Mansfield, Tyger grid fans and Senior high students are planning a giant "Friday Farewell" for the Bengal team.

Several pep rallies are on this week's schedule but the biggest of them all is being planned for Friday morning when the Senior high players leave for their assault on the Martins Ferry Purple Riders.

Realizing that the added "players" put in the stands last week's pep "tank trap" was a big factor in the upset victory over Hamilton, the Senior high students are going all out to try to duplicate the feat this week. Martins Ferry is one of Ohio's few unbeaten scholastic powerhouses and a decided favorite to defeat the Tygers.

Students and adults will join in the Friday pep session. The students will form a gauntlet from the front entrance of the school to the parking lot in the rear. The players will travel down this cheering lane to board their special bus at 8:30 a. m.

Then will come a parade. Tyger boosters and other Mansfielders who can get away from work will form an auto caravan at Senior high to escort the bus and players out of town.

"Operation Purple Rider" got away to a good start today when hand bills made their appearance in the school corridors. These bills printed at the school, carried the legend: LSMFT — Let's Smash Martins Ferry, Too! A big display is being erected with a castle, representing Martins Ferry dreams and a cannon symbolic of Senior high.

Thursday afternoon pupils will stage a big snake dance on the practice field.

They Don't Lie At La Rue!

Mansfielder Bags White Pheasant

By DON MILLER

After being called "liars" for reporting a pure white cock pheasant for the past few months, La Rue hunters were vindicated yesterday when Karl Maul jr., of 209 Foster street, Mansfield, bagged the rare bird.

The pheasant had been the chief topic of conversation among hunters in that area for quite some time, but skeptics laughed at the claim. Maul had the last laugh just before shooting ended yesterday.

He spotted the bird on the ground because of its contrasting color, but laughed it off as a chicken. A little closer inspection showed the long tail and the local nimrod blinked his eyes, doubting their accuracy.

While he was still wondering at what he saw, the bird flushed and the long white tail streamed out behind it. That settled Maul's doubts and Mr. Pheasant's fate.

An inspection of the dead bird showed it was not an albino since it had the natural bluish colored eyes of a normal pheasant. Around its eyes were the brilliant red circles to be found on the common ringnecks, but this was the only touch of color. The rest of the bird was absolutely white.

Maul was hunting with his father, Carl Maul sr., Lloyd Schmunk of Mansfield, and a La Rue friend when he downed the rare bird. The party also took one other bird during the trip.

The hunter's father said today the bird will be mounted then displayed at the Diamond Street Hardware, Diamond and Adams.

Carl Maul sr. is shown holding the rare white pheasant killed by his son near La Rue yesterday afternoon.

High Winds Buffet City

Community Chest Sign Torn Down

A 40-mile wind ripped down signs and tree branches in Mansfield last night, but the city area escaped major damage.

The CAA communications center at the Mansfield airport said the wind reached a 40-mile velocity at 12:30 a. m., today.

Officials at the airport said the wind did no damage there.

However, in Mansfield, the gusts tore down the Community Chest sign in Central park, breaking the neon tubes that outlined the red feather. There were reports in the city of limbs being torn from trees.

A number of garbage can tops were blown helter-skelter, resulting in numerous calls to Al Strachan, garbage department superintendent, for old tops for replacements.

The wind and rain storm that struck this area was general over six mid-west states. Rain fell from the middle Atlantic states southward to Georgia.

The storm yesterday struck over parts of Ohio, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri.

Fair and cooler is the forecast for tonight, but tomorrow will be partly cloudy and mild. Appearance of the sun over most of the state was expected to send the mercury above the 50-mark today.

Police Trap Safecracker

AKRON—(INS)—John Sopko, 41, described by detectives as the "best safecracker in the country, bar none," was held by Akron police today on a fugitive charge.

Sopko, who escaped from Guernsey county jail last June 11, was captured last night in a raid on his Akron home. Police used machine guns, tear gas bombs, pistols and shotguns to capture the escapee.

Capt. John Struzenski of the police force said that Sopko also is wanted in Zanesville, Sandusky and Port Clinton.

Four Killed By Pacific Storm

PORTLAND, Ore. —(UP)— A fierce Pacific storm abated somewhat today after claiming four lives and damaging four ships, but the weather bureau warned that the wind will rise again tomorrow. The northwest coastline has been battered for more than than 24 hours by winds that reached 80 miles an hour early Tuesday.

Deflation Hits Indianapolis

Housewives Cash In On War of Coupons

INDIANAPOLIS—(UP)—Indianapolis housewives today rushed to stores to take advantage of a $2,000,000 "coupon war" being waged by chain grocery stores and independent proprietors.

A local chain fired the first gun in the battle by mailing every metropolitan home a book of coupons worth $5.20 in trade. Most of the coupons were worth 10 cents toward the purchase of a single item.

Independent grocers retaliated by offering to honor the chain's coupons. One stocked up on the bargain-type items and waged an intensive campaign to latch on to the customers enticed by the chain.

Another chain joined the fight by cutting its prices outright 10 cents on all coupon items for one week.

"Why monkey with coupons?" the second chain asked in an advertisement. "We'll give you the coupon price right over the counter."

It was estimated today that the value of coupons floating around the city had reached $2,000,000.

Harvey Hagelskamp, secretary of the Indiana Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers association, said the coupon plan to increase sales was given an impetus about six months ago when ample stocks of food and household supplies were restored after wartime and postwar shortages.

He said one issue of an Indianapolis newspaper on Nov. 4 contained coupons worth a total of $1.10.

Independent grocers criticized manufacturers of products advertised on the coupons. They said the coupons might violate fair trade laws prohibiting manufacturers from favoring one outlet over another.

The independents charged that manufacturers apparently made a special deal with a firm which distributes the coupon books. If so, the independents said, they may be able to use the fair trade laws to force the manufacturers to redeem the coupons on the same basis as they would for the coupon distributing firm.

Chinese Loyalists Recover

Stand Firm At Suchow

NANKING —(UP)—The government asserted today 90,000 casualties were inflicted on Reds routed east of Suchow, gateway to Nanking.

The official and pro-government reports buoyed the capital. But skeptics, mindful of other government claims at Tsinan, Chinhsien and Mukden just before they fell to the Reds, waited for more information.

These points, however, appeared true on the basis of information here:

1. The Chinese air force blunted Red attacks across the open country east of Suchow, 200 miles northwest of the capital.

2. Gen. Huang Po-Tao's seventh army group, which was isolated east of Suchow, lost more than half of its full strength of four armies. It survived repeated attacks and still is in the field. Its ability to take and give punishment heartened other government units.

3. The executive Yuan ordered martial law extended to Tsingtao, site of the American naval base in the western Pacific. The order goes now to President Chiang Kai-shek for implementation. The action followed the application of martial law to Nanking, Shanghai and Suchow.

FORCED MARCH

4. Gen. Pai-Chung-Hsi's four national armies from Hankow approached the Pukow-Suchow railroad from the west after a forced march of 180 miles.

The effectiveness of General Pai's troops in bolstering Suchow's defenses was undetermined since at least two Red columns paralleled them across the countryside.

Hankow reports said thousands of workers there were digging trenches outside the city as additional defenses to Communist raids.

Qualified observers here hold the opinion the Reds were regrouping for another assault instead of being on the run.

Most Chinese expressed doubt that the Suchow's "victory" was as sweeping as pictured by the newspapers and government. But it appeared that Chiang Kai-Shek's troops at least held their own in the first phases of the great Suchow battle in which more than 1,000,000 men assertedly were committed.

Duck Hunter Fatally Shot

AKRON—(UP)—Acting Coroner K. D. Harrington today ruled that James J. Dwyer, 42, superintendent of public affairs in nearby Hudson, O., accidentally shot himself fatally while hunting. Dwyer's body was found yesterday in a boat on Pine Lake. He had been duck hunting on the estate of James J. Barrick.

800 Brave Rain to See Thriller

Players Win Praise In 'Suspect'

By EILEEN DEWHURST

The Community Players opened their 22nd season last night in John Simpson auditorium with their first presentation of "Suspect," a psychological thriller which was enthusiastically received by an audience of nearly 800.

Despite the stormy weather, a near-capacity crowd attended the first performance of the play directed by Herbert H. Schettler. The performance will be repeated at 8:15 p. m., today.

Evidence of the audience's approval was the spontaneous applause for Corrine Schettler as Mrs. Smith, Marion Byers as Goudie MacIntyre, and Jack Schettler as Rev. Alfred Combermere. The audience broke into applause in the middle of scenes as these actors made their exits. Twice the crowd applauded Mrs. Byers's portrayal of the Scotch maid.

Mrs. Schettler turned in such a realistic performance as the mentally unbalanced Mrs. Smith that she had the audience feeling that she was the character she so ably played. Her every gesture built up the feeling of suspense which lasted until the startling climax in the final scene.

Marion Byers as the Scotch maid was a "natural" for the part she played. The Scotch war bride of a Mansfielder, her brogue is as authentic as it sounded. But it was not her brogue alone which brought praise from the audience. Her acting was so good at times that she stole the scene from the other actors.

Supporting roles in the play were ably handled by Frederick Pearson as Robert Smith, Shirley Anson as Janet Rendle, Richard Airhart as Dr. Rendle. Jack Schettler as Rev. Alfred Combermere, Ruhland Isaly as Sir Hugo Const, and Patricia Blahnik as Lady Const.

Shirley Anson, who played the fiancee of Mrs. Smith's son, seemed another "natural" for her part. Her portrayal of the vivacious girl added a pleasant note of contrast to the somber characterization of Mrs. Smith.

Although the play seemed to drag a little in the first scene, the action picked up quickly and carried through to a successful climax.

Mrs. Schettler's portrayal of Mrs. Smith in the final scene was nothing short of superb. Her spine-tingling climax left the audience gasping.

Throughout the play the necessary elements of humor were present to relieve the feeling of suspense.

After the final curtain, the players were called back for several curtain calls.

Paul Burgener and his orchestra furnished the music between scenes.

Evergreen Festoons Banned

A ban against the use of evergreens for Christmas decorations in public buildings was issued today by Fire Chief L. J. Steele.

The order was contained in a 10-point set of regulations governing decorations in public building at all times. The rules do not affect private homes where Christmas trees will appear as usual.

The rules have been laid down under the authority giving the fire chief the power to eliminate fire hazards.

"Anyone failing to comply with these rules is creating a fire hazard and as such is acting against the laws of the city," Chief Steele said.

His 10-point program has been endorsed by Ray P. Gill, state fire marshal; the Insurance Board of Mansfield; R. B. Kurfiss, chief inspector for the bureau of fire prevention in Dayton; the National Fire Protection association and the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

MINISTERS COOPERATE

W. G. Shultz, chairman of the C. of C. committee, reported that the Ministerial association has endorsed the program "insofar as is reasonable" and has promised to eliminate the use of dry evergreen branches in churches.

The association agreed that Christmas trees will be put up shortly before the holiday and taken down immediately after, Shultz said. He added that the ministers agreed not to use electric lights on the trees.

Chief Steele said that all theaters, assembly halls, churches, schools, hospitals, hotels, banks, and other places of public assembly must observe the following rules in arranging Christmas decorations:

1—Don't decorate with any kind of dry or flammable natural foliage such as sawdust, wood shavings, corn fodder, grain, limbs, leaves, moss, twigs or branches, or pieces of evergreen foliage.

2—Don't use evergreen trees of any type at any season of the year. To date there is no known fireproofing chemical for these trees.

3—Don't use cellophane or any flammable material for window or showroom decorations.

4—Don't use natural cotton for trimming unless it is flame-orified and approved by the fire department.

5—Don't use paper, crepe (shredded or otherwise) unless it has been flame-proofed and approved by the fire department. Flame-proofed cheese cloth or bunting can be purchased . . .

Kills Self In Church

VATICAN CITY—(UP)—An unidentified man committed suicide at noon today in the most famous church of Christendom, St. Peter's Basilica, by plunging from the inside cupola 164 feet to the ground.

The suicide was regarded as desecrating the great church, and it was closed until it can be reconsecrated in accordance with Catholic rites.

The Basilica was filled with faithful and the church bells were tolling noon as the unidentified man made his death leap. The attendance in the church was unusually heavy because of the feast of the dedication of St. Peters.

It was the second cathedral suicide in Italy in two days. Luigi Pugliesi, a shoemaker, shot himself yesterday in the Cathedral of Naples before the main altar.

Be a Quitter, Organization Tells Members

FRANKLIN, Ind. —(AP)— You can join the "OEPQO" if you have strength of character to say the password at the right times.

The "OEPQO" is an organization to encourage people to quit organizations. It's password is "no." It has no officers, no dues, no meetings, no activities, no projects. It's motto: "Be a quitter."

Dr. Howard W. Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, proposed the "OEPQO". His purpose was to help members save time for family life and church duties.

Allies Decline Request

German Problem 'Peace Threat'

BULLETIN

PARIS —(UP)— United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie and General Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt issued a statement today calling on the big four powers to solve the Berlin crisis "with the least possible delay."

★

PARIS—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France told top U.N. officials formally today they want the Berlin dispute with Russia left in the hands of the security council to be dealt with as a threat to peace.

The three powers reaffirmed their decision against negotiations with Russia on Berlin while the Soviet blockade of the western sectors continue. These were the two main points of the west's argument.

The net result of the latest flurry of excitement in the United Nations was this: the east and west have once more stated their positions and each has once again declined to budge.

The western powers formalized their stand in replies to the appeal by H. V. Evatt, the assembly president, and Trygve Lie, the U. S. secretary-general, who asked the four powers to compose their differences for the good of world peace.

Russia already had replied. She insists, as before, that the Berlin question is part of the all-German question and must be discussed by the council of foreign ministers.

The stalemate was on again.

The United States once again said it would not negotiate the issue of Berlin under the threat implicit in the Russian blockade.

Britain said the Russian veto of a Berlin solution offered by the so-called neutrals of the security council stood in the way of progress toward a settlement. That proposal had called for lifting of the blockade, to be followed immediately by a four-power conference.

"LEAVE IN COUNCIL"

The British also replied to the appeal of H. V. Evatt, the assembly president, and Trygve Lie, the secretary-general, that the most hopeful approach to a Berlin solution would be to leave it to the security council.

Secretary of State Marshall, whose reply was checked and cleared with President Truman, said the United States is ready to engage in talks with Russia as soon as the blockade is lifted. He said also the United States looks to the Security Council for further efforts to solve the issue.

Marshall, in the formal American reply to the Evatt-Lie letter, said the United States had discussed the matter directly with Russia until it became apparent the Berlin blockade was established to gain political objectives to which Russia was not entitled.

"We therefore referred the question to the Security Council as a threat to the peace, where it still remains," Marshall replied.

"To compromise the principle of the charter that force shall not be used for the attainment of national objectives would endanger the peace of the world," Marshall wrote.

"There is a basic issue in relation to Berlin—that is, whether or not the Soviet government can be permitted to use force, whether by way of blockade or of economic pressure involving currency, credit or trade, or otherwise to deprive the western powers of participation in the administration of Berlin.

Claim Suicide In Area Death

MOUNT VERNON — (AP) — Charles V. Critchfield, 79, a member of the state utilities commission under Gov. Judson Harmon 35 years ago, killed himself with a gun yesterday.

Tobin Favors Merger of AFL, CIO, He Tells Newspapermen

CINCINNATI—(INS)—Labor secretary Maurice J. Tobin declared Tuesday that he would "very much like to see" a merger of the American Federation of labor and the CIO.

Tobin, before returning east from the AFL's 67th annual convention, told newsmen.

"If at any time I can contribute to the union of these two organizations, then definitely I would do so."

Tobin also indicated that another round of wage increases was inevitable in some categories. He declared that 16 million factory workers whose wages have gone up 22 per cent are still nine per-cent behind a cost-of-living increase of 31 per cent.

The slim, 47-year-old former Massachusetts governor declared he could see no reason for the establishment of a third party representing labor or any other faction. He said that he liked the two-party system of a conservative and a liberal party and emphasized he considered the Democrats to be the liberals. He added:

"The recent election shows how ineffective splinter parties are."

BUCYRUS—Crawford County Rabbit club will hold its annual election of officers at a meeting Thursday night in the rabbit building at the county fairgrounds here. Ralph Osterlund, a representative of a Cleveland feed company, will show colored picture slides on rabbit raising and feeding.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

In Memoriam

WRITTEN by Blanche Cantrell and dedicated to the memory of PFC. Elmer E. Wildeman, who gave his life for his country Nov. 17, 1943.

Tho' five years have passed so swiftly
Since you answered Jesus's call
Now the bugles blow in Heaven.
Where God loves his children, all.

Your smiles on earth, how we miss them
As you bid this life adieu
Some day soon, we hope to meet you
When life's trials all are thru.

No "Good bye" was said to loved ones.
When you left us, over there
There'll be no "Goodbye" in Heaven
That's one hope we all can share.

Soon, we all must cross that River
That's one debt we all must pay
So "Good-Night" until God's morning
Turns our darkness into day.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Abandon Hope For 12

TOKYO —(UP)— The U. S. air force announced today that it has given up hope for 12 men aboard a B-29 bomber that has been missing since Nov. 6. Headquarters said the search for the men has been "officially declared ended." The aircraft was approximately 25 miles west of Guam when it was last reported.

Federal Mediators Enter East Coast Longshore Strike

Meetings Arranged In Strike

Daily Loss $26,000,000

NEW YORK — (AP) — Federal mediators entered the east coast longshoremen's strike today in an effort to settle the dispute that is costing more than $26,000,000 a day in lost business and wages.

William Margolis, assistant director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, arranged separate meetings with Joseph Ryan, president of the striking International Longshoremen's association (AFL), and with John V. Lyon, chairman of the shipments negotiating committee.

This was the first federal intervention in the walkout since it was called last Friday when the 65,000 ILA rank-and-file members rejected a 10-cent hourly pay raise and stood firm on demands for a 50-cent boost.

The New York Board of Trade estimated on the basis of department of commerce figures that the strike is costing commerce $15,500,000 in exports and $10,000,000 in imports each day.

At the same time. Lyon estimated that the walkout is causing the longshoremen to lose $200,000 a day in wages. And tugboat and trucking industry spokesmen estimated in each case a loss of $100,000 each day.

The loss was boosted well over $26,000,000 by adding the cost to railroads and railroad workmen, some $1,100 of whom have been laid off by the strike.

Meanwhile, the use of Halifax as the main port of entry for goods and passengers to the United States seemed assured when waterfront workers in the Canadian port decided to resume handling vessels diverted there by the ILA strike.

The Cunard Line was expected to make Halifax its western port of call for the liners Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth, Mauretania and others. The Mauretania sailed from Halifax for Great Britain last night with 600 passengers aboard, most of whom were brought there by train from New York.

Marshall plan goods continued to pile up in New York's warehouses at an estimated 20,000 tons a day.

fic commissioner, said he believed that while more could be done along that line, the information was being used to some extent in the form of specialized enforcement (patrolling areas where most of the accidents occur.)

The report suggested that for a city the size of Mansfield the equivalent of one full-time man be assigned to traffic engineering.

Except for the fact that 100 intersections had marked cross walks, the report declared that Mansfield ranked below the performance level in the top 30 cities in traffic controls and improvements. The report referred to such things as center-lined streets, street lights and traffic signss

The Mansfield school traffic safety program was commended in the report which suggested that behind-the-wheel and class room instruction to Senior high school students be offered.

In the field of public education, the report suggested that a digest of the city's traffic ordinances be distributed.

The meeting was attended by about 30 persons, including Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, Councilmen George Kyle aud Harry Bowman, President of Council Paul N. Bush, Fire Chief L. J. Steele, Police Lt. John Steel and members of the auxiliary police force. John Conard, of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee, also was present.

YWCA Staff Member to Speak On Conditions In Europe

Miss Marian Hamlen, foreign division staff member of the YWCA, will be the guest speaker at a World Fellowship membership meeting and tea to be held at the YWCA at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Miss Hamlen will discuss conditions in Europe as part of the picture of the work of the world's YWCAs.

She recently returned to the United States after extended work in Europe and Newfoundland, including rehabilitation of WYCAs and work at displaced person centers.

Miss Hamlen spent two years in Czechoslovakia as advisory secretary to the YWCAs there under the YWCA foreign division. She served on a recreation project for displaced persons in Germany.

Thursday's service will be part of the annual observance of World Federation week in Mansfield. YWCAs all over the world have participated in this national week of prayer for better understanding among all peoples for more than 50 years.

The theme of the week is "That They All May Be One."

The Mansfield YWCA has set $200 as its minimum World Fellowship contribution for 1949, according to Mrs. S. R. Baird, chairman of the World Fellowship committee.

MISS HAMLEN

World Fellowship services are being conducted at all regular meetings of the Blue-Tri clubs of the YWCA this week.

Miss Hamlen also will speak at a meeting of the Employed Girls club at the YWCA tonight.

2 Bids Received On Sanitary Sewer

The R. O. Darling company submitted the lower of two bids opened yesterday at the city building for the construction of a sanitary sewer on one block of Longview and Jefferson avenues and Front street.

The Darling company bid $9,602, $992 less than the Zimmerman Contracting company which offered to do the work for $10,524. The bids are being studied by the city board of control.

Man Bound Over For Non-Support

Jesse Miller, of Loudonville, was bound over to the Richland county grand jury under $500 bond in Municipal Court today, after he pleaded innocent and waived examination on a charge of non-support. The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Estella Stroble.

Jim Graves, Mansfield, R. D 1, was fined $10 and costs and lost his right to drive for 30 days on a charge of unsafe operation.

Stolen Car Parts Found

A discovery of radiator ornaments and auto aerials under a pine shrub on Western avenue yesterday led police to believe that repeated thefts of the auto accessories in the last week was the work of youthful vandals.

Police were called to the home of Dimon Herring, 60 Western avenue, yesterday after Herring notified officers he found the accessories under the pine while mowing the grass.

Found were two ornaments from radiators and several aerials. Three aerials and four ornaments have been reported taken.

Club Gets First-Hand U. N. Story

Miller Sees It As Real Hope For Peace

"United Nations is an institution that can accomplish something."

That was the opinion expressed by W. L. Miller, Mansfield superintendent of schools, yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Miller said the public needs more information about the U. N. to appreciate its possibilities. He explained the organization of the U. N. and traced its history from the time it was first conceived in a meeting of heads of exiled governments in London in 1941 to the present time.

Introduced by Coleman Todd, chairman of the meeting, Miller said he had a rare opportunity to study U. N. in operation when he was invited to attend a three-day institute for educators in New York last February. The time was spent watching the different sections at work in U. N. headquarters at Lake Success, he said.

PRAISES LINGUISTS

Miller spoke of the amazing system for translating speeches given on the floor of the General Assembly, into five different languages simultaneously. He praised the ability of the linguists who make such translations possible, and declared they were among the most important people in the assembly.

He asserted U. N. is mose successful than most people think, pointing out that "failures of the body receive a bigger play in the news than its achievements."

He said he was convinced that only through such a body could war be prevented. He urged all nations to get behind the United Nations with the enthusiasm with which they pursue war.

"War is possible but not necessary. We will not have war if we spend half the time and money on peace that we spend on war," he told the club

'Y' Directors Meet Tonight

The YMCA board of directors will go through the process of reorganizing at its regular monthly dinner meeting tonight at the YMCA.

The board will undergo changes authorized by the new constitution which was recently drawn up. Its name will be changed to the board of trustees.

Irl Fisher, president of the board, will appoint a committee to nominate candidates for board offices. The annual election meeting will be held in February.

A committee will present reports of the building rehabilitation program now under way.

WELCOMES NEW MEMBER—M. H. Pryor, right, president of Barnes Manufacturing company, welcomes John Tesch jr. into the firm's Twenty-Year Veterans' club. Tesch has worked at the firm since February, 1928.

Tesch Joins Barnes Club

Worker Completes 20 Years Service

The Barnes Manufacturing company's Twenty-Year Veterans' club has acquired a new member. He is John Tesch sr., of 303 Third avenue, who has worked for Barnes since February, 1928.

Tesch was welcomed into the club at its annual dinner meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Monday night. He was presented with a certificate of membership, a transparent mystery clock, and a membership pin.

The 31 persons present at the meeting included members of the organization and their wives. They heard a talk by M. H. Pryor, president of the company, about future business prospects. He also told about his recent trip to Arabia.

Pryor announced that in the future men with 20 years' service with the firm will get three weeks vacation with pay instead of two.

Other members present with the year they began their continuous employment were:

Emmett Crockton, 1905, Ernest Schafer, 1909, Dewey Gallagher, 1917, Dwight McCullough, 1918; August Schuster, 1919; Sam Berger, 1920; Salvatore Glorioso, 1923; Pete Kasper, 1923; Sam Treadway, 1925, Dobra Boskov, 1926; and Sherman Carver, 1927

Fred B Hout, vice-president in charge of sales, was master of ceremonies.

Backs Drive On Comics

Members of the Mansfield P-TA council moved to support R. Y. Davis, fifth vice president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, in the crusade against objectionable comic books, at a meeting at John Simpson junior high school last night.

Miss Clara Schumm, supervisor of Richland county nurses, was the speaker

Miss Schumm's topic was "Social Hygiene." She discussed communicable diseases, sex education in the home, and explained classes for expectant parents. She told the group if children are intelligent enough to ask questions about sex, they should get true answers in their homes.

Before the regular business meeting, Mrs Paul Stahl presented a revision of the by-laws of the council. During the meeting the group recommended the revision be sent to the state board of managers for approval.

Mrs. E. J. Pankow, president of the council, was in charge of the meeting.

The next regular meeting will be held at John Simpson junior high school Jan. 4.

AWOL Charges Bring 2 Arrests

Held for Army authorities today in city jail on AWOL charges were David Crawford, 18, of 77 North Willis avenue, and William H. Parsons, 24.

Police said the men were apprehended in the city yesterday on instructions from Army officials Crawford is stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., and Parsons is stationed at Sheppard Air Base, Wichita Falls, Tex.

God Must Have Part In Peace Movements, Priest Asserts

Rev. J. E. Duffey, Catholic priest of New London and chaplain of the Ohio Legionnaires, painted a pessimistic picture of world conditions last night when he spoke to members of the Mansfield chapter of the National Secretaries association and their "bosses" at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

It was the second annual "bosses' night" for the Mansfield secretaries. Following last year's precedent, the secretaries entertained with a dinner and program. Miss Mary O'Donnell, president of the local chapter, presided, and W. J. Locke, one of the bosses, acted as toastmaster.

Music was presented by Mrs. Louise Beal, who impersonated the hillbilly singer "Dorothy Shay," and by a quartet of singers, including Harlan Weimer, Dennis Schooley, Charles F. Freehafer and Edward Young, who sang several popular melodies.

Rev. Duffey blamed most of the recent war and the present Berlin crisis on international bankers and American politicians.

'REPUDIATES' DOCUMENT

He said the United States is repudiating the Declaration of Independence, the document which forms the basis for most of the admiration of other countries.

"Yet we continually allow every type of subversive element to exist, we do not even try to protect that declaration," he asserted.

"There are two things wrong with America," Rev. Duffey pointed out. "We do not learn by experience and we do not think correctly."

The U.N., he declared, was formed without the idea of God behind it. It was formed, he said, with the idea of brotherly love, but that idea will not bring peace unless there is God back of it.

"The only hope of the world as I see it is to love God with all our hearts and love our neighbors as ourselves," he said. "The only reason we are at peace now is because Russia is not ready. But the longer it goes, the more chance for Russia to perpetrate another Pearl Harbor, another Philippines.

"We must become a united people. There can't be a clash between capital and labor, between races, between nationalities if we are to unite. And we must unite if we are to survive."

PROWLER REPORTED

A report of a prowler at a Sixth avenue home was investigated by sheriff's deputies last night. Officers, however, said they failed to find the intruder.

Double 'Y' Unit Elects Officers

Officers of the newly-created double "Y" committee were elected last night at a meeting in the YMCA.

Barbara Conner was elected chairman, Barbara Tilton, secretary, and Roy Miles, treasurer. Dorothy Hainer, YMCA girls' industrial secretary, and John W. Fike, YMCA physical director, were chosen as advisors.

The first dance to be sponsored by the committee will be held Saturday night at the YMCA

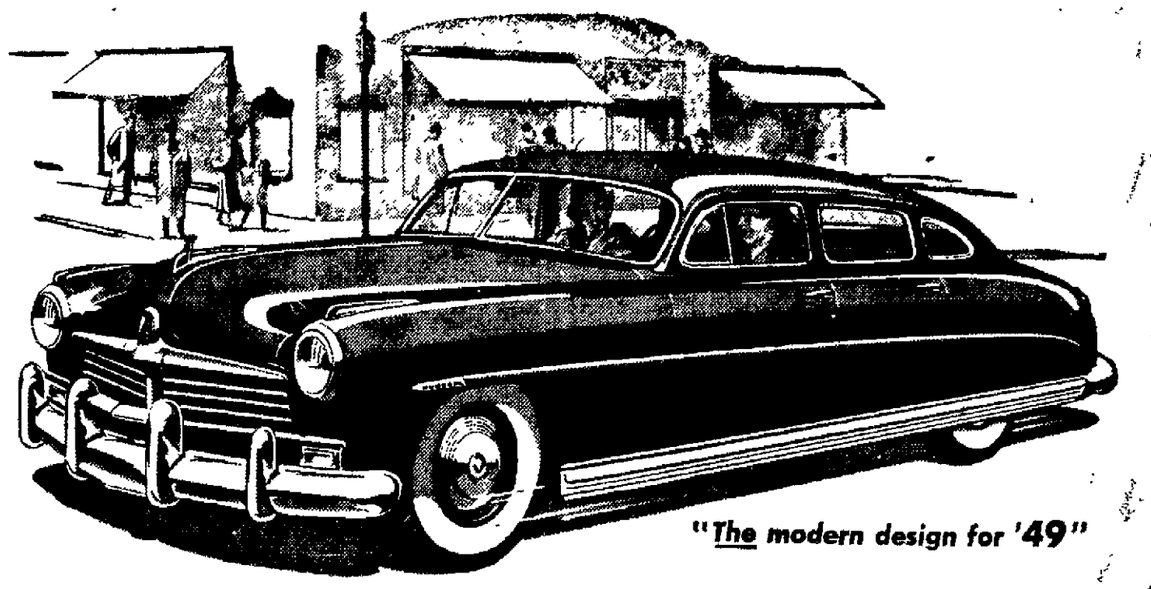
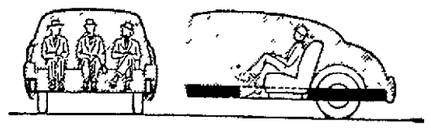
MEET THE Star Performer for '49!

You're invited to drive the New Hudson—the car that's nimble and rugged beyond anything you've known before!



"The modern design for '49"



HUDSON FLOORS are recessed down within the frame (as shown above), seats are lowered, so you get more than ample head room in this car with the new lower center of gravity

YOU RIDE DOWN within a base frame (as shown above), and rear seats are positioned ahead of the rear wheels so that full body width becomes available for wonderfully roomy seats. Box-section steel girders completely encircle and protect the passenger compartment

TRY AUTOMATIC GEAR SHIFTING in forward speeds as provided by Hudson's Drive-Master transmission—by far the easiest of all ways to drive You can accelerate as long and as fast as you like in pick-up gear, then lift your toe momentarily, and you're in high The shift into high comes only when you are ready' Button control on the instrument panel provides instant change to conventional driving if ever desired Drive-Master transmission is optional on all New Hudsons at small extra cost

Come in, try Hudson with the all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine (the most powerful American six built today) or the masterful Super-Eight. Both provide wonderfully alert power for a new type of motor car with an exclusive "step-down" design.

Millions say the New Hudson is the reigning beauty in the automobile parade—but you can't really know this great car until you drive it—and you're invited to do just that—now!

Hudson, with the new, 121 h.p., high-compression Super Six engine or the masterful Super-Eight takes you away with new zip, and outstrips the field with staying power.

But amazingly alive engines aren't the whole story of this star performer for 49. Hudson has a new hug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway.

This all happens because—as is widely known—the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

This remarkable car has floors recessed down within a base frame (Hudson is the only car you step down into), enabling Hudson to build the lowest car on the highway, only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more than adequate head room!

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin to ride, and this gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being! This feeling is further enhanced by the ease with which this car is operated, and by the quiet with which Hudson glides along

Come in, let us show you why Hudson's great engines and fabulous "step-down" design principle put this car so far ahead it is a protected investment in motor car value!

The many important advantages in Hudson's new "step-down" design are explained in a booklet available at the nearest Hudson dealer's.

NEW Hudson The only car you step down into

Shelby Plans Street Change

SHELBY — Councilman Jim Herlihy, chairman of a special committee named by Mayor William Morris, Monday made his initial report on renaming several streets here. The action arose from complaints of the post office, fire and police departments over difficulty in locating correct addresses, as some streets have three names.

Morris reported he did not want to 'railroad' the street legislation through council, but it was council's intention to take action at its next meeting. This gives citizens two weeks to voice complaints, he explained.

Recommendations proposed in the report were: Changing Simeon avenue, east side of square to corporation limits, to Madison; Franklin avenue to Tucker; Mansfield avenue, which extends from east side of square to the limits, to South Broadway; Mack avenue, from Main street to the limits, to High school avenue; Morris road to Seltzer avenue, and Brucker avenue to Dale.

CONTEST RESCHEDULED

IBERIA — The Iberia shock corn husking contest, which was postponed because of rainy weather, will be held Saturday

Officials Get Crime Blame

GALION — "Crime is such a threat because authorities are afraid to face it," Dr. E. Guy Cutshall, former Rotarian, told members of the Galion Rotary club, Monday, when he gave an informative talk on the subject of crime.

Speaking of a remedy for the crime situation, Dr. Cutshall said: "All that is necessary is to let the American people know these facts, for there are 80 million normally sound and conscientious adults in the United States, and it is my belief that once they know these facts they will take steps to correct them."

Shelby Considering New Fire Equipment

SHELBY — Council Monday approved a resolution, authorized by Mayor William Morris as director of public service, to advertise bids for new fire equipment plus housing equipment for same. Repairs on the old fire station also were authorized.

Representatives from two fire apparatus firms attended and explained their products. Insurance statistics favor acquiring a quad truck in preference to a pumper. The quad is a combination hook and ladder truck.

County Forms Grange Unit

SHELBY — The masters and past masters of Richland county formed an association bearing the same name as the meeting Monday in the Hazel Grove Grange. Thomas Shepard and Byron Bricker acted as temporary chairman and secretary as 12 granges voted on the formation.

The roll call consisted of Harry Stroup, Dean Morse and Floyd Steele, of Hazel Grove; M. H. Myers, E. J. Lubbe, C. J. Pittinger, Lester Lantz, T. H. Sheppard, Byron Bricker, all of Union; M. Swisher and William McClelland of Madison; Glen Forbes and Frank Fenner of Plymouth; M. Barnes, Woodrow Huston and M. Sparks of Shiloh; Fred Dill and Carl Garber of Jefferson; Mr. Remy and Dewitt Wright of Worthington; Martin Franks and Gail Kuhn of Ganges; Grover Simpson, Charles Oberlin and Fred Harding of Shenandoah; James Mahan and M. Walker of Olivesburg; Mr. Farley of Roseland and Harry Miller and Roy Williams of Columbian Grange.

Religious Education Expansion Endorsed

GALION — Expansion of the Council of Religious Education was endorsed by the Galion Ministerial association at its regular meeting recently at First Methodist church. Each church of the city will be represented by one layman, and one minister of the city, Rev. Norman R. Somerville, will serve on the council.

The council has charge of sponsoring religious education for school children which is being held this year in the different churches of the city instead of in the public schools. The new setup was arranged to comply with the U. S. Supreme court ruling on religious education in the schools.

Simpson Students Stage Heated Drive

No major party election campaign was ever carried on with more enthusiasm than that being waged at John Simpson junior high school by ninth grade pupils.

Candidates were chosen from each of the eight home rooms, and their election campaign program would put many a party leader to shame. Tuesday "managers" presented their individual candidates over the public address system of the school.

According to H J Dotson some of the speeches were snappy, sure-fire talks, the best given by the girls. One of the girl managers presented her candidate's qualifications in verse.

Throughout the halls of the school posters ask for support of individual candidates. Most of the posters are printed in rhyme and there are such pointed reminders as "Pick up the telephone. What do you hear? Everybody voting for TRUAX this year."

Or there's this urgent plea, "Don't forget, Vote for the Best, No Less, Lowell Hess" And again, 'Harlan Skippy Burns for president, Vote for Skip, He's our Man, He can do it if anyone can"

The ballot contains names for president, secretary and treasurer Candidates for president include Harlan Burns, Charles Davison, Lowell Hess, Charles Laser, Stan Schneider, Albert Stanish, Jon Truax and Bill Zeigler

The eight running for secretary include Bob Comisford, Jane Germany, Carol Huffman, Gene Kleer, Joan Leemaster, Bill Semenoff, Bob Mathews and Joan Spertzil Candidates for treasurer are Fannie Angeloff, Judson Baker, Lewis Luckie, Sandra Nichols, Faye Stahl and Vivian Uhl

Voting was scheduled for this afternoon.

PAGE SIX MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER, 17, 1948

It hardly seems fair, but some little boys are being induced to practice their piano lessons now by telling them that they may become president some day.

Attention is being directed to the fact that science does not say that all morons make the safest car operators—only the "high grade" ones . . . so there should be some qualifying test.

Silver Pegged at Fictitious Price

WHILE the new Truman administration, which becomes operative after the first of the year, is said to be free from "entangling alliances" with special interests, it may be wondered if it will be able to do anything about the fictitious price at which silver has been "pegged" as a result of favoritism that has been shown the several big silver producing states.

An echo of the long-past William Jennings Bryan days is heard in the proposal likely to come before the next Congress designed to artificially peg the price of silver at one-sixteenth the price of gold—thus classing it as a monetary metal . . . which it is not.

Actual fact is that silver is primarily valuable for its various uses in industry, and that silver coinage serves merely as a token, just as paper money.

Its price per ounce should therefore be based on supply and demand, rather than being fictitiously set by the government in playing to special interests which are enriched by such action, at the expense of taxpayers and users of silver or purchasers of commodities of which it is a part.

The "16 to 1" idea was repudiated away back in 1896, but a new generation of promoters, seeking selfish advantage, are still engaged in the same old racket.

Obstacles Serve To Disfranchise

AN OMINOUS feature of this election year was the spread of disfranchisement. Both major parties have for years been trying to keep minor party candidates off the ballot by setting up extremely high standards of qualification. The well-financed Wallace movement managed to get on in all the states except three, but another new party might not be so successful. And the socialists and other smaller fry were simply out of luck in several states.

This year disfranchisement went further. The Dixiecrats seemed to distrust their own strength, for they tried to advance their cause by preventing President Truman's supporters from having a chance to vote for him. His name did not appear on the Alabama ballot, and some other ballots stated that the regular Democratic nominee was Governor Thurmond, which, of course, was not true.

In Ohio the failure to permit Wallace's name to appear on the third party ballot was so confusing as to invalidate an estimated 100,000 ballots on which voters marked one of the regular party tickets and then placed an X before some of the names in the third column, designated merely as "Independent."

Maybe They Don't Know the Law

PLACE among interesting quotes those of Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, as they appeared in yesterday's News-Journal in the form of replies to queries touching on the return of wide-open gambling to Mansfield, after a two months' ban earlier this year.

Quoting Police Chief Schwab: "I do not reveal the movements of the police department."

Quoting Mayor Vaughn: "I think the chief is doing a good job and I'll support him in whatever he does." End quote.

There is just a possibility, of course, that neither Police Chief Schwab nor Mayor Vaughn are familiar with state laws and local ordinances on the subject of commercialized gambling.

If dereliction of sworn duties is due to ignorance it may be pointed out that information on the subject can be readily made available through the city solicitor or the prosecuting attorney, both of whom are either familiar with the plainly stated laws against commercialized gambling or have access to anti-gambling statutes and ordinances.

Some may think, however, that a city's mayor and chief of police should know these things as a part of preparation for the duties of these offices.

Can Churchill Regain Leadership?

"A GRAND MAN to have been our leader, but not to lead us now." This is coming to be the feeling of some British Tories about 74-year-old Winston Churchill. A Tory newspaper publisher, Viscount Kemsley, has recently proposed that the war-time premier share with others the responsibility for party leadership, and devote more time to writing memoirs and heading the movement for Western Union. Put less politely, this is an invitation for Churchill to go on the shelf.

What is the cause of this attitude? The Manchester Guardian, the chief newspaper of the Liberal party, says that Churchill does not co-operate. "He insists on his own choice, chooses his own moments for intervention in parliament, and in general, takes little notice of what his lieutenants or party organizers think or advise on policy and tactics." Some of those who feel like this would like to see Churchill turn over the party reins to Anthony Eden.

It may be doubted if Churchill will do this voluntarily. He felt keenly his defeat in 1945 and would like to be vindicated by a victory in 1950. He may also remember that Gladstone became premier for the fourth time at 83 and served for two more years.

Asked if he had any political aspirations, Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., replied: "I am a Roosevelt"—which puts it briefly but clearly.

Another point left unsettled by the election is whether or not the vice presidency can be made an active job.

Now it's Thanksgiving that's "right around the corner."

What Some Other People Are Saying

LABOR SECRETARY MAURICE TOBIN: "There can be no halfway measures with the Taft-Hartley law and its evils. The President and Congress have a mandate from the people—a mandate for total repeal."

* * *

CLARENCE BUDINGTON KELLAND: "The Republican leaders should get rid of Dewey's clique of efficiency experts. They arrogantly seized control of the party and dominated it ruthlessly."

* * *

SEN. WILEY (R-Wis): "The situation in China is perhaps of even more critical significance than the crisis of 1941 which ended in the Pearl Harbor attack."

China's Long, Long Trail Still Winding.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Russia Opposes 'Human Rights' Charter

THOSE who espouse the belief that communism will blow up in due course because of its undemocratic structure (and they are many) have received plenty of encouragement for this view in the efforts of the 58-nation social committee of the United Nations assembly in Paris to draw up a charter of human rights.

Progress in writing this all-important document has been marked by a fierce battle between Soviet Russia and the anti-communist nations. The efforts of the Muscovites have been aimed at limiting the rights of the individual and making him a puppet of the state.

In order to understand the significance of this, it is essential that we recognize the structure of present day communism.

A lot of people have the mistaken idea that the current communism is the same mild and beneficent ideology of long ago which laid down a humanitarian code of one for all and all for one.

There is small relationship between today's communism and the original brand.

The current so-called communism is bolshevism. It is a cold-blooded philosophy of totaliarian dictatorship in which the individual is wholly subservient to the state—a cog in a machine. It is an ism which expands by strong-arm aggression.

That is the background for the maneuvers of Soviet delegate Alexei Pavlov in the social committee and he has fought doggedly for the totalitarian code. For example, he sought to delete freedom of religion from the declaration of human rights.

Naturally this aroused hot opposition among the democracies, to whom freedom of religion is a cherished right. And the draft resolution as finally adopted provides that "everyone must be guaranteed freedom of thought, conscience and religion." Pavlov would have limited this to freedom of thought.

* * *

Against All Freedoms.

THE RUSSIAN position in this argument about religion is easy to understand. One of the cardinal tenets of bolshevism is that religion is the dope of the masses and must be destroyed.

The reason is obvious: A religious person can't subscribe to the evils of aggression and totalitarianism. Hitler followed a similar line with his totalitarian nazism. He tried his best to destroy religion in Germany.

Another hot fight has been waged in the social committee over freedom of speech and of the press. An article upholding these freedoms was adopted wth the Soviet bloc voting solidly against it.

Then Pavlov attacked a proposed article reading: "Everyone has the right to a nationality. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his nationality or denied the right to change his nationality." He maintained that the right to change nationalities should be omitted, and proposed an amendment but the article as originally presented was adopted with the Soviet bloc abstaining.

In this atmosphere of conflict between democracy and totalitarianism the work on the bill of human rights has proceeded slowly. The declaration as thus far dealt with provides for the fundamental freedoms of the man in the street.

Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanese ambassador to Washington, who was one of the drafters of the declaration, has said that it may be "America's greatest weapon of psychological warfare—more important even that possession of the atomic bomb."

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Saturday, Nov. 17, 1928.

Wave of furious buying was reported from New York stock market, and it was estimated that "value of securities" had increased more than a billion dollars. (Remember what happened the following year?)

R. H. Sotherland resigned as purchasing agent of the Columbia Tire and Rubber company.

Newly organized Emblem club held first meeting at Y. M. C. A. and reported membership of 41.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kessel, 74 Columbia avenue.

Daniel M. Hull, 81, died at his home east of Mansfield.

Mrs. Carl Babst and two children of Cleveland were injured when auto overturned into ditch on Park avenue west road.

Miss Kathryne Terman of Mansfield, and George M. Cupples of Akron, were married in Woodland Methodist church in Akron.

Dave Boone Says:

IT WOULD help a lot if strikers putting the general public behind the eight ball wouldn't smile so much and seem so happy in the photographs. Just a light expression of regret here and there wouldn't be bad.

* * *

There was a time when strikers seemed a little unhappy and somewhat sorry about tieing things up, but those days have gone with the wind. Looking at the pictures you would get the idea the whole thing was a superpicnic.

* * *

Maybe it's just the typical American reaction to cameras these days. The mere rumor that there's a camera near will throw everybody within focus into an ear-to-ear grin.

* * *

Could it be that no human being trusts his personality any more unless it reflects complete unconcern and a touch of idiocy?

Washington Calling

Letter To Young Prince

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—A letter to the Prince of Edinburgh:

As one human being to another, welcome to the world. I wish you a long and happy life.

I wouldn't know what a prince—maybe some day a king—needs to make him happy.

In one case it might be love, as it was with your uncle, Edward VIII, who gave up being a king to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Another man might be happy just being mild and quiet and raising a family in a warm house, like your grandfather, the present king, George VI.

Maybe you'll be king of England some day. But you may have to live a long time before you make it.

And, without wanting to be gloomy, I think you'll need an awful lot of luck to make it at all.

I'll tell you why I say those things.

Your mother is a very young woman and her father, the king, your grandfather, is still a man in early middle age.

He has to live out his life before she can become queen. And she has to live out her life before you can become king.

All in all, that takes time. As for the luck you'll need—

Right now, while you're still a baby, kings and queens are getting as much out of date as high-buttoned shoes. Only a few are left.

Some times I see the pictures of ex-kings and ex-queens in the papers. They look as if they couldn't believe what has happened to them.

They shouldn't have much trouble understanding it. They had thought the world was a fairy tale, made for them, and they were living in it.

* * *

Good Pay, Little Work.

THE WORLD has grown up, and they didn't, and the world closed the book on them and threw the book away. The world is very real now.

The English people are nice to their kings now, but that's because they are not afraid of them any more. Once they were.

In fact, not being afraid of their kings now, the English people have grown fond of them.

They like your grandfather, the present king, so much that they pay him $1,640,000 a year just to have him around to do a few things.

(President Truman gets only $75,000 and Prime Minister Attlee, who does the important work in England, get only $40,000).

Your grandfather doesn't have much to do. Sign a few papers, make a few speeches his ministers prepare for him, have his picture taken looking tweedy, and just stay around so that in time of trouble the English people can rally around him like they'd rally around a flag.

So if you finally make it as king, you ought to have a quiet life, with good pay and only an occasional job to do.

That is, if you make it—.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"I'm asking for a raise because I feel my work has improved and your conduct hasn't!"

As Others See It

Another curious feature about the so-called reasoning ability of human beings is that whenever there's a traffic jam, there are always drivers who think blowing their horns will solve the whole problem.—Ohio State Journal.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Maine's Woman Senator Stands Firm

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Maine's senator-elect, Margaret Chase Smith, is a most attractive lady, though not given to flirtation. However, leaders of the Maine Republican machine have been flirting like mad with the first woman elected on her own to the U.S. Senate.

What they want is to get her out of the Senate. Apparently, Old Guardsman Owen Brewster doesn't relish the companionship of an alert and progressive lady colleague in the Senate.

Maine G.O.P. leaders made their first pass before the election. After first clearing it with Albany, they offered Senator Smith a seat in Dewey's cabinet. The deal was that she would be replaced in the Senate by her machine-backed opponent, who lost out in the primaries—Gov. Horace Hildreth.

Mrs. Smith's reply: She was flattered, but the people of Maine elected her to the Senate—not the cabinet.

The Old Guard next sounded her out on another deal. If she would boost Hildreth for a federal appointment, they promised to arrange with Sen. Wallace White—who is retiring anyway—to retire before January. Then Governor Hildreth would appoint Mrs. Smith to the vacancy, thus giving her seniority over the newly elected senators for committee assignments.

But Maine's new woman Senator would make no deals of any kind—either before she entered the senate or later.

KKK Complains.

GRAND DRAGON Green of the Ku Klux Klan is still worried about leaks from inside his organization.

Speaking at Klavern No. 1, Atlanta, Ga., the week after elections, the grand dragon wrung his hands and once again cautioned klansmen to be careful about leaks.

"I have to talk frankly in these meetings," he said, "but I might as well call Drew Pearson before I come to the meeting and give him the information. For next day he gives it out to everybody from coast to coast. The AP and UP are both calling me about it next morning while I am eating breakfast."

The grand dragon went on to say that sometimes he thought some of the men he had been relying on were talking too much to their friends, and that confidential information had leaked out that way.

"I have given out false information to people under suspicion, thinking maybe I would hear Drew Pearson mention it on the radio," confessed the grand dragon. "Then I would know I had the right man."

*

However, this strategy failed. So he put special markings on printed literature to suspected members, thinking that it would get into print. However, this failed also.

In conclusion, he said, he just didn't know what to do about leaks from supposedly confidential Klan meetings.

Klansman Ransom then criticized Pearson for telling his radio listeners that Ellis Trnall, former governor of Georgia and a bitter enemy of the Klan, might be the new secretary of the army in the Truman cabinet.

Big Cross-Burning.

THE grand dragon spoke about plans for a big cross-burning to be held in Macon, Ga., on Dec. 10. It would be the biggest in Klan history, he said, and he expected 10,000 klansmen to be there—in their robes.

"We are going to initiate people from all over the country like we did at Stone Mountain," he reported.

Grand Dragon Green produced a letter from a colored woman asking the Klan to help run another colored woman out of town. This drew a big laugh. Dr. Green said that of course they weren't going to do anything about that.

He added that the Kavalier Klub—the Klan's whipping and flogging department—was now on the job and had plenty of friends on the Atlanta police force.

Arrogant Steel Tycoons—.

WITH everyone crying for steel, the tycoons of that industry have grown so arrogant they now treat Uncle Sam like a nagging customer.

As long as Congress threatened mandatory controls over steel, the steel magnates put on their best Sunday-school manners. They made patriotic promises to keep the government supplied with its basic steel needs, but pleaded, almost on their hands and knees, to keep it on a voluntary basis.

As a result, Congress passed a law giving the steel industry voluntary allocations. To implement this, the leading producers formed an advisory committee under the commerce department to pass on allocations for the industry.

Once free of the threat of enforced controls, however, the steel executives got off their knees, climbed on their high horse, and rode roughshod over government officials.

For example, when acting secretary of the Interior Girard Davidson pleaded with the industry for more steel for oil barges, storage tanks, and pipelines, the steel tycoons laughed in his face. They even vetoed extra steel for a vitally needed pipeline to the atomic energy plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Steel tycoons were so rude in turning Davidson down that one top executive felt pricked to apologize.

"It is my feeling," he wrote to Davidson afterward, "that, regardless of the steel industry's attitude toward the requirements of the petroleum industry, you were not afforded proper courteous consideration in the last meeting, and as a member of the committee, I offer my personal apologies."

Fifty other steel men were also present, but no one else apologized. In fact, they didn't even bother to answer a follow-up letter from Davidson, repeating in writing his request for more steel—sorely needed in order to assure American homes heat for the winter.

They Call $500 a 'Tip'

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Seems as though things have changed somewhat from the old days when, if you bought a new suit, for instance, the clothing store salesman threw in a hat, or a belt, or at least a necktie.

If you bought an automobile in those days, usually the salesman would throw in a set of side-curtains or chains or maybe a spotlight—just for good-will, sort of.

But nowadays, according to testimony the Macy subcommittee is hearing out on Capitol Hill, if you buy a new car, you throw in something extra for the salesman, for good will—something like maybe $500, let's say.

Otherwise, the salesman may cut you dead on the street and sell that fancy new flivver to the fellow who lives down the street.

Although there have been rumors from time to time that this sort of thing was going on, it took the congressional testimony to bring out the fact that some auto salesmen not only consider the whole business quite okay, but also refer to those little $500 gifts as "tips."

It also brought out the fact that a lot of car owners — in the upper income brackets, it seems—consider the system quite satisfactory and strongly resent the Macy committee poking its nose into their business.

But Mister Macy is perturbed, and before the probe is through, he figures they may be writing a new law about such inflationary "tipping."

For that matter, Congressman W. Kingsland Macy, the New York Republican, doesn't perturb very easily. And in the case in point, he is above reproach. The pre-war jallopy he parks out in front of the Capitol building pretty obviously didn't require any "tip" to the salesman, back in the days it was bought.

Secure in that position, the nattily-dressed, pipe-smoking committee chairman sat and stared speculatively as the parade of uncomfortable witnesses passed before the Kleig lights the other day.

As they told their stories — which sometimes conflicted — in tones varying from injured innocence to open anger, the austere New Yorker shook his head from time to time as though in disbelief.

* * *

Invasion of Privacy.

FELLOW named Ben Cohn, who told Macy he was a bookmaker by trade, said he'd bought a new car for a friend. Sure he gave the salesman, one William Manuel, a "present." How much? Why, $500, he said.

Manauel, an energetic little guy with a shoulder-shrugging attitude, said certainly Cohn had "tipped" him five hundred smackeroos. What's more, he didn't think that in these times that was such a heckuva lot of dough.

A slight sympathetic giggle ran through the crowded hearing room. The questioning congressman frowned but did not chide the audience.

The only point where Mr. Cohn and Mr. Manuel differed was over who suggested the $500 "tip." Cohn said Manuel did, and vice-versa. But Macy was more concerned with other things.

Was Mr. Manuel in the habit of taking such tips, he wanted to know. Sure, said Manuel, been doing it for years. He'd be a fool not to, he thought. Again the crowd chuckled. The salesman, however, declined to discuss the methods he used to encourage such "tipping," from his customers. Trade secrets, apparently. Besides, he said he used different tactics on different people.

Anyway, they seemed to work, he said placidly, adding that he still was "eating three times a day." Mr. Macy eyed him sadly as he arose to leave the stand.

Another fellow, named George Gilbert, was very irritable with the committee. Told them he was there against his will. Yes, he said, he'd paid an extra $500 for the privilege of buying a new car, but he wasn't squawking. Obviously, he thought it was none of the committee's business.

Like Messrs. Manuel, Cohn and several other testifying citizens, his attitude was strictly one of: "Doesn't everybody do that?"

Mr. Macy grew more mystified as the session continued. When it ended for the day, he cleaned up the business in his office, went out, climbed into his pre-war car and drove home in brooding silence.

Things, he doubtless was thinking, certainly have changed.

Throw Away the Giveway.

The FCC is looking at radio from the lowest possible view when it considers whether giveaway shows are illegal. Why shouldn't it be proper for the FCC, and the radio industry itself, to consider whether legal or illegal, giveaway shows are elevating radio or degrading it?

Radio being to a large extent a public service and therefore a public trust, it can ill afford to take an attitude of just scraping by the law. Even if giveaway shows were as legal as a non-gold dollar, they would still be an insanity of the times, just as flagpole sitting, marathon dancing and goldfish gulping were insanities of other times.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Farmer's Diary

Some Food Deficiencies

By CALVIN A. BYERS

INHABITANTS OF certain parts of the world are free from decayed teeth. People living in parts of France, Switzerland and Egypt never have cancer. Among the Hunzas of India, long life and stamina are the natural thing. Scientific research has determined that most, if not all, diseases are caused by ill-balanced diet over a long period of time.

A whole new field of chemistry and biology has been uncovered in the soil beneath our feet. A cure for Bang's disease and its human counterpart, undulant fever, has been accomplished by correcting deficiencies of calcium, manganese, copper, cobalt and iodine in the cells and bloodstream of the animals. This is brought about by correcting the same deficiencies in the soil which produced the food eaten by the sick livestock or the ailing humans.

Dr. Ira Allison, Springfield, Mo., has successfully treated over 1,000 cases of undulant fever with scarcely any reactor or failure.

Now science is busy finding similar treatments for the other plagues—heart failure, cancer, infantile paralysis, etc. And it looks as if producers of food are facing a mighty challenge.

For if everybody's health depends upon a certain standard of food production, then it is race suicide to continue hit-or-miss methods of soil care and cropping. Real quality cannot be manufactured into food unless it is first grown there. Unless the right elements are in the soil, diet must remain inadequate, unbalanced, and disease-producing.

How can we get all our agricultural land to produce food that is fit to eat? The future of our country depends upon how we answer that question. It follows, too, that if food is adequately nourishing less will be required. It will take less space on earth to feed each person, if the soil is right.

Edwin Markham said it in a poem:

"We are blind until we see
That in the universal plan
Nothing is worth the making, if it does not make the MAN.
Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilded goes?
In vain we build the world unless the builder also grows."

STEP RIGHT UP, FOLKS—That's what Ernie Palmquist is saying this week to Mansfield's school children when they stop on the second floor of the M. O'Neil company to view his 25,000 piece circus. In the picture are pupils from the Country Day school.

Build Miniature Circus In 13 Years

The circus season has been over for several weeks, but a big three-ring show is attracting hundreds of youngsters and adults daily to a Mansfield store.

This show has all the features of a Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey or a Cole Bros. circus, but they are in miniature.

Twenty-five thousand pieces comprise this tiny replica of the best and gayest in circus features. It is enclosed in a small fence to keep out busy, prying little hands. The exhibit is 32 by 12 feet.

It is difficult to decide whether the children or their elders are more interested in the show. Kiddies and their dads and mothers crowd around to hear Ernie Palmquist, the owner and builder of the miniature circus explain about the various parts of the show.

It took Palmquist 13 years to carve by hand all of the 25,000 pieces with the exception of the tractors and the railroad tracks for the small circus trains. Palmquist began making the tiny figurines when he was a band leader.

Later he gradually worked it into a full sized and completely equipped circus. Mrs. Palmquist has made all the costumes, the tents, blankets for the elephants and painted the necessary pictures and signs.

There is everything in the display from the three-ring show with its parade, trapeze performers and animals, to the menagerie tents, side shows, and dining tent.

The show will be on display on the second floor at O'Neil's until Saturday.

About Women

SOROSIS CLUB GIVEN TOPIC BY MRS. MILO W. HIEBER

Misses Bertha and Sophia Ruess Entertain Study Club at Women's Clubhouse Tuesday.

MISSES Bertha and Sophia Ruess were hostesses to the Mansfield Sorosis club yesterday afternoon when they met at the Women's Club. Twenty-five members were present.

Mrs. George Hout, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. LeRoy McGinty.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. Milo Hieber entitled "Our 33rd President." She spoke of Mr. Truman's humble origin and exemplified him as the typical average American. She gave a synopsis of his political career and a brief biographical sketch.

"The 49th State" was the title of a talk given by Mrs. Bess Albright. She told of the Americanization of the island of Hawaii and briefly discussed its political and economic structure. She also emphasized the desire of the people to be admitted into statehood.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 30, at 7:30 p. m. at the Women's club. Mrs. S. D. Hoover will serve as hostess and a book review will be given by Miss Bertha Patterson.

Royal Regal Garden Club To Trim Trees

The Royal Regal Garden club met recently for a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bert Campbell, Cook road. Mrs. A. L. Beidelschies served as associate hostess.

Mrs. E. A. Graham, president, conducted the business meeting. Plans were made to decorate two Christmas trees for the Mansfield General hospital. It also was decided that the club would "adopt" a little girl from the Children's home, for one year.

The program consisted of a panel discussion on Thanksgiving and "what it means to us," under the direction of Mrs. L. K. Banks. Mrs. W. L. Gross gave a talk on arranging the Thanksgiving table and the difference between that of your grandmother's day and the present time.

Mrs. F. H. Leavitt spoke on interesting pieces of glass, china and candles used with flowers, fruit and nuts for a table arrangement. Mrs. Amos Day's topic was Thanksgiving dinner and Mrs. Claude Phipps gave a reading. Mrs. Dane Valentine read a paper entitled "Bird Budget."

An unusual arrangement of a pumpkin basket filled with fruit, vegetables and gourds centered the table. The next meeting will be a Christmas dinner and gift exchange Dec. 20, at 6:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Foster Stough, Rae avenue.

Initiation Held For Pledges

Informal initiation was held for four pledges of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority Tuesday evening in the clubrooms, YMCA. Mrs. Harvey Hauserman and Mrs. Raymond Beal were in charge of the service.

Pledges are Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. William Uhde, Mrs. William Maxwell and Miss Esther Cappadonna. They served refreshments to the group at the close of the meeting. Thanksgiving appointments were used.

Plans were made to hold formal initiation on Nov. 29 at Miller's Supper club, Ashland. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Miss Grace Crotty, Miss Mary Stover and Mrs. Marjorie Hoffman.

Callahan-Stimens Nuptials Solemnized In East Mansfield

THE East Mansfield United Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Alice Martha Callahan, Route 4, Mansfield, and Donald Henry Stimens, Route 5, Mansfield, on Oct. 16. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. before an altar decorated with two beauty baskets of mixed flowers, palms and ferns. Tall lighted candelabra illuminated the scene.

Given in marriage by her father, Arthur B. Callahan, the bride wore a gown of white Japanese silk, which was topped with cream net. She carried a bouquet of white pompons and carnations with a center of an orchid, tied with white streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Callahan, Route 4, Mansfield, and Mr. Stimens' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stimens, Route 5, Mansfield.

Miss Betty O'Leary was the maid of honor, attired in a pink satin and lace dress. Her bouquet was of pastel flowers tied with blue satin ribbons.

Mrs. Callahan wore a grey dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Stimens chose a grey suit with black accessories.

Edward Vogel, of Lexington, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were David Ralph Stimens, brother of the bridegroom, Wallace Snyder and Duane Stimens, cousin of the groom.

Following the service the couple received their guests in the church parlors.

Later in the day the couple left for a wedding trip to Cleveland. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with black accessories and her orchid corsage.

They are now at home in Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Stimens were graduated from Madison high school. Mrs. Stimens is employed at Kobacker's and Mr. Stimens is employed by his father.

SHEARED RACCOON . . .Popular medium-priced fur is used in luxurious greatcoat; round cape collar.

'Story of Lace' Given to Club

Mrs. Paul A. Stoodt, Brinkerhoff avenue, served a 1 o'clock luncheon to twenty-one members of the Tuesday Book club yesterday. The luncheon was buffet style from a table centered with red roses.

Mrs. Norman L. Wolfe presided for the business session. Mrs. Charles Shafer and Mrs. Wade Burleson reported on the book to be placed on the memorial shelf in the library in memory of Mrs. Jay Palmer. The club has selected "Flowers and Color" edited by J. F. Dix and Walter Roozen.

Mrs. Stoodt and Mrs. Wesley Carr were appointed to investigate the Christmas project.

Mrs. William Weldon jr., gave a paper on "The Story of Lace," showing lace collected by Mr. Weldon's grandmother. There was both needlepoint and bobbin lace in the collection.

The next meeting will be November 30 at the Women's club. Mrs. Leo Wright will be the hostess.

Wesleyan Service Guild Welcomes 3

Three new members, Mrs. Steve Wiess, Mrs. Dorothy Keck and Miss Helen McCauslin were welcomed into the Wesleyan Service guild last night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Fair, 561 Arlington avenue. One guest, Mrs. Clarence Lisle, was present.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Nov. 20 at the parish house. The topic entitled, "Alaska" was given by Miss Ruth Mains. Luncheon was served with Thanksgiving appointments.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 20 at 8 p. m. at the church.

Smith-Sneeringer Nuptials Held At Park Avenue Baptist Church

IN THE PRESENCE of the immediate families Mrs. Ruth E. Smith, 583 Scholl road, and Romaine E. Sneeringer, 501 Sloane avenue, were united in marriage before the altar of the Park Avenue Baptist church on Nov. 14. Dr. W. M. Taylor officiated for the double ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Jack Beasore, daughter of the bride, and Robert Sneeringer, son of the groom.

Simplicity was the keynote of the decorations which consisted of lighted tapers, palms and baskets of mixed flowers.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour of nuptial music was played by Fred Sutcliffe at the organ and vocal numbers were sung by Mrs. James Smith, daughter-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Smith chose for her wedding a street length winter white dress and a white feather hat with black accessories. White and pink shattered carnations composed her corsage.

Mrs. Beasore wore a dress of royal blue crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations and Talisman roses.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of Mrs. Beasore. After a trip through the south Mr. and Mrs. Sneeringer will reside at 501 Sloane avenue. Mrs. Sneeringer is employed at the Mansfield Typewriter company and Mr. Sneeringer is with the Ohio Public Service company.

B'nai Jacob Sisterhood Plans Coming Activities At Temple

MRS. LEONARD HURWITZ presided for the meeting of the B'nai Jacob Sisterhood Tuesday evening at the temple, 50 Sturges avenue. Following prayer a business session was held at which time announcement was made of a bake sale to be held Nov. 24 in charge of Mrs. Jules Glattke.

There will be a card party at the temple on Dec. 5 in charge of Mrs. Jack Cogen and Mrs. Max Meisel. Plans were discussed for the Hanukkah dinner at the Temple on Dec. 29.

During the program period Miss Della Buckley entertained with a demonstration on the art of make-up. Mrs. Moshe Goldblum presented current events.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cogen, Mrs. Sam Frankel and Mrs. Charles Weinstein. The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 21.

Schedule Given By C. L. of C.

Mrs. John Schweitzer, president, presided over the business meeting of the C. L. of C. Tuesday evening in the clubrooms of the K. of C. home.

The schedule for the remainder of November and December was announced. The members will receive communion November 28 at 7:45 mass. Tuesday, December 7, a card party will be held at the K. of C. home. Mrs. Henry Kurtzman and Mrs. Emma Fisher will be the co-chairmen. A supper will be held December 21 at 6:30. This will be the Christmas exchange and election of new officers. The chairmen for the supper are Mrs. Thomas Dillon and Mrs. R. C. Straub.

The group voted to give donations to the new mission church which will be opened in Mt. Gilead by Bishop Ready of Columbus. A group of Mansfield ladies will attend the tea and opening Sunday in Marion.

A contribution to Rev. Father Kuppers in New Mexico is to be sent. This school in New Mexico is sponsored by the C. L. of C.

CARD PARTY MEETING

Mrs. Joseph Bein and Mrs. Joseph Edelstein were hostesses at the 1 o'clock luncheon card party held Tuesday by Temple Emanuel Sisterhood at the Temple on Cook road. Mrs. Leopold Adams and Mrs. John Mintz presided at the table which was centered with fresh fruit.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Kathryn Bernice Knackstedt, bride-elect of Ted Coleman, was feted recently at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Dick Coleman, 136 Harker street. Associate hostess was Mrs. Herbert Coleman.

Fifteen guests were present. Cards were the diversion of the evening.

Luncheon was served at small tables with pink and yellow appointments. Prizes were won by Miss Helen Swanger, Mrs. Lester Hunter and Mrs. Thelma Piper.

Miss Knackstedt and Mr. Coleman will exchange nuptial vows Nov. 20, at 7:30 p. m. at the Grace Episcopal church. Open church will be observed.

Blue Star Mothers To Send Gifts

The Blue Star Mothers met last night at the YMCA with the president, Mrs. J. M. Simpson conducting the meeting.

It was voted to send gifts to the Chillicothe hospital. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Dec. 16.

Officers were nominated and will be elected at the next meeting which will be held Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m.

LEOPARD DUSTER . . Striking new coat with up-or-down collar, back half belt, by Fredrica.

Thanksgiving Dance Planned

St. Peter's Alumni association will hold a Thanksgiving dance, November 24 in the ballroom of the Knights of Columbus home. Dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30 a. m. to the music of Nels Blocker and his orchestra.

General chairman of the affair will be Paul McCambridge. Serving with him on the various committees are Robert Schung, Casmir Buzenski, Ray Dillon, William Moody, John Osgar, Ray Baum, Fred Wilkinson, Gerald Risacher, Richard Dalton, Robert Oakes, Donald Smith and Donald Peppers.

The affair is open to all members and their friends.

TO ENTERTAIN

The combined groups of the Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church will entertain their parents at a covered-dish supper in the church parlors, Sunday, Nov. 21, at 5:30 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged.

Linnaeus Garden Club Shown 'Period' Arrangements Tuesday

PERIOD ARRANGEMENTS" was the theme of the program presented to Linnaeus Garden club members Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marion Brinkerhoff, 55 Penn avenue. Mrs. Henry Paulsen conducted the class in various types of arrangements.

She introduced a new item, "Snow-pack," a white sponge-like substance which eliminates the necessity of disturbing arrangements to add water from day to day. It also serves as a holder for flowers.

One of the lovely and unusual arrangements displayed by Mrs. Paulsen was of the Georgian period, placed in a stately green urn type container, filled with white and yellow mums, yellow snapdragons and red roses, with greenery furnished by ivy and perennial pea vines. The French period was shown by red roses and spirial elcalyptus in a delicate satin glass vase. A beautiful antique vase, from Mrs. Guy Shawk's collection, was used to represent the Victorian period.

Other unusual and attractive arrangements included the Colonial in a charming shallow bowl, which had been used as a potato dish. In this were pink and white mums and lemon leaves. Others were a Thanksgiving centerpiece, a Japanese dried arrangements, and a modernistic centerpiece.

Following the luncheon the meeting was opened with the garden club prayer. Mrs. H. M. Spandau spoke on "The Sap-sucker" and Mrs. Carl Spangler presented new conservation measures.

Three new African violets were described by Mrs. Fred Dippman. Mrs. Herman Clingan gave a garden verse, "A Prayer," by Garrison.

Plans were made to hold a box lunch on Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs. Henry Paulsen, 524 Beechwood drive.

Honor Charter Member of Ruth Chapter

Mrs. Jennie Harding, Past Worthy Matron, and the only charter member of Ruth Chapter, No. 17, O.E.S., was the honored guest on Monday evening when the chapter met for the regular meeting at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Harding was presented, given a corsage as a gift from the chapter and escorted to the East. After the initiation service, Mrs. Louisa Ruhl, a Past Matron and present Chaplain, presented Mrs. Harding with her 50 year pin, an honor which is given every member of Eastern Star throughout the state, who have served their chapters for 50 years or longer.

These pins are given by the Grand Chapter of Ohio. Mrs. Forest Domer, Worthy Matron gave her report for the year and was presented with gifts from her officers, as was Virgil Hartman who has served the chapter as Worthy Patron this past year.

A social hour was held in the banquet room, following the meeting. The annual installation of officers will be held on Monday evening Dec. 6, when Mrs John Roman and her corps of officers for 1949 will be installed.

Public Library Announces Books For Children For Christmas

BOOKS TELL THE STORY is slogan for Book week this year. Books tell the story of our country, its growth and its glory; books tell the story of people, far and near, like us or different. Books can reveal the wonders of nature and science, of things both large and small. During Book week, many books, new and old, are on display in the Children's room at the Public Library, small display groups that bring out different aspects of the slogan. It is impossible to list, much less to tell anything about each and every book. Every person in Mansfield is invited to come in and see and handle and examine for himself.

One group is called "Gift Specials." These I suggest for Christmas giving. For small children I'm raving about (and giving) Robert McCloskey's BLUEBERRIES FOR SAL. Sal is the cutest little girl to pop up in a picture book for many a long month. The story concerns a mother and child, a bear and her cub who go blueberrying at the same time and get mixed up. The story is silly enough to appeal to children of the picture book age and the pictures are simply priceless. Margaret Brown's LITTLE FIREMAN and Virginia Burtons KATIE AND THE BIG SNOW and attractive picture books that make good gifts, as is Duvoisin's WHITE SNOW, BRIGHT SNOW, which was the 1947 Caldecott book.

For children from 7 or 8 to 10 or 11 I suggest NILS by D'Aulaires, the story of a Norwegian boy who wanted to be a wild west cowboy, or MATILDA'S BUTTONS, Matilda Hunt's newest book, a quiet Quaker story about "nice people." Two very special books, with special appeal are ENCHANTED EVE by Ley and LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS illustrated by James Daugherty. The girst is a lovely book, with pages in different colors, a fantasy for the imaginative girl. The second is the same text with one of Daugherty's mural like drawings for almost every phrase. I would not have thought it possible for anyone or anything to add to Lincoln's words but these pictures do add to the depth of meaning and the interpretation of one of the most famous speeches ever made.

For older children TWENTY-ONE BALLOONS by BuBois (Newberry medal for 1947) the perfect gift. This is a book of rare humor and delight that no one should miss. ISLAND STALLION by Walter Farley is bound to be a hit with Farley fans and all lovers of "horse stories." For people who like truly beautiful books SONG OF ROBIN HOOD illustrated by Virginia Burton is a great gift.

Three of the books mentioned SONG OF ROBIN HOOD, ENCHANTED EVE and the GETTYSBURG address are gifts from Mrs. Ruth Kimmel in memory of her son, Harold, who was killed in the war.

Other displays: "For younger readers" including, GABRIEL CHURCHKITTEN AND THE MOTHS, by Austin, HOOKER'S HOLIDAY, by Bronson, CATS FOR KANSAS by Henderson, and Lois Lenski's NOW IT'S FALL. Each of these is outstanding for humor, pictures or both. There are many new books of the reader type, too.

"Of people like you" includes AZOR by Crowley, the story of a small boy who could talk with animals. SKID, by Hayes, first Negro boy to attend school in the small Connecticut town where his father found work; BOOM TOWN BOY, Lois Lenski's story of the oil fields and what sudden tremendous wealth meant to one family; MISS TIPPY Janet Lambert's new book.

"Of the past" includes biographies and histories and stories. RED EAGLE by Moran, story of Buffalo Bill's adopted son will perhaps be most popular.

"For'doers'" includes some suggestions for making things for Christmas presents as well as books about people who do things.

"Of nature" includes the animal stories, especially a quiz book which is fascinating and informative.

"Of the world" includes geographies as well as stories laid in various countries.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, November 18

THIS should prove to be an unusually intriguing and eventful day, probably arriving by virtue of the ideal, strange, unique and glamorous. There are subtle undercurrents, imbuing the affairs with a tone of the mysterious, inexplicable and challenging. While sordid or regulation business matters may thrive, it is likely that the purely personal may manifest in romance and curious experience in which the element of charm, magnetism and allure are paramount. Parties, social functions and cultural interests are bound to afford much pleasure and be subtly profitable.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a period of the exceptional and novel, in which affairs of an obvious and sordid flavor may not hold appeal.

A child born on this day may possess much talent of an out-of-the-ordinary scope, with personality, glamor and subtlety of intriguing importance.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

SOROSIS CLUB GIVEN TOPIC BY MRS. MILO W. HIEBER

Misses Bertha and Sophia Ruess Entertain Study Club at Women's Clubhouse Tuesday.

MISSES Bertha and Sophia Ruess were hostesses to the Mansfield Sorosis club yesterday afternoon when they met at the Women's Club. Twenty-five members were present.

Mrs. George Hout, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. LeRoy McGinty.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. Milo Hieber entitled "Our 33rd President." She spoke of Mr. Truman's humble origin and exemplified him as the typical average American. She gave a synopsis of his political career and a brief biographical sketch.

"The 49th State" was the title of a talk given by Mrs. Bess Albright. She told of the Americanization of the island of Hawaii and briefly discussed its political and economic structure. She also emphasized the desire of the people to be admitted into statehood.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 30, at 7:30 p. m. at the Women's club. Mrs. S. D. Hoover will serve as hostess and a book review will be given by Miss Bertha Patterson.

Royal Regal Garden Club To Trim Trees

The Royal Regal Garden club met recently for a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bert Campbell, Cook road. Mrs. A. L. Beidelschies served as associate hostess.

Mrs. E. A. Graham, president, conducted the business meeting. Plans were made to decorate two Christmas trees for the Mansfield General hospital. It also was decided that the club would "adopt" a little girl from the Children's home, for one year.

The program consisted of a panel discussion on Thanksgiving and "what it means to us," under the direction of Mrs. L. K. Banks. Mrs. W. L. Gross gave a talk on arranging the Thanksgiving table and the difference between that of your grandmother's day and the present time.

Mrs. F. H. Leavitt spoke on interesting pieces of glass, china and candles used with flowers, fruit and nuts for a table arrangement. Mrs. Amos Day's topic was Thanksgiving dinner and Mrs. Claude Phipps gave a reading. Mrs. Dane Valentine read a paper entitled "Bird Budget."

An unusual arrangement of a pumpkin basket filled with fruit, vegetables and gourds centered the table. The next meeting will be a Christmas dinner and gift exchange Dec. 20, at 6:30 p. m at the home of Mrs. Foster Stough, Rae avenue.

Initiation Held For Pledges

Informal initiation was held for four pledges of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority Tuesday evening in the clubrooms, YMCA. Mrs. Harvey Hauserman and Mrs. Raymond Beal were in charge of the service.

Pledges are Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. William Uhde, Mrs. William Maxwell and Miss Esther Cappadonna. They served refreshments to the group at the close of the meeting Thanksgiving appointments were used.

Plans were made to hold formal initiation on Nov. 29 at Miller's Supper club, Ashland. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Miss Grace Crotty, Miss Mary Stover and Mrs. Marjorie Hoffman.

Callahan-Stimens Nuptials Solemnized In East Mansfield

THE East Mansfield United Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Alice Martha Callahan, Route 4, Mansfield, and Donald Henry Stimens, Route 5, Mansfield, on Oct. 16. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. before an altar decorated with two beauty baskets of mixed flowers, palms and ferns. Tall lighted candelabra illuminated the scene.

Given in marriage by her father, Arthur B. Callahan, the bride wore a gown of white Japanese silk, which was topped with cream net. She carried a bouquet of white pompons and carnations with a center of an orchid, tied with white streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Callahan, Route 4, Mansfield, and Mr. Stimens' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stimens, Route 5, Mansfield.

Miss Betty O'Leary was the maid of honor, attired in a pink satin and lace dress. Her bouquet was of pastel flowers tied with blue satin ribbons.

Mrs. Callahan wore a grey dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Stimens chose a grey suit with black accessories.

Edward Vogel, of Lexington, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were David Ralph Stimens, brother of the bridegroom, Wallace Snyder and Duane Stimens, cousin of the groom.

Following the service the couple received their guests in the church parlors.

Later in the day the couple left for a wedding trip to Cleveland. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with black accessories and her orchid corsage.

They are now at home in Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Stimens were graduated from Madison high school. Mrs. Stimens is employed at Kobacker's and Mr. Stimens is employed by his father.

SHEARED RACCOON . . .Popular medium-priced fur is used in luxurious greatcoat; round cape collar.

'Story of Lace' Given to Club

Mrs. Paul A. Stoodt, Brinkerhoff avenue, served a 1 o'clock luncheon to twenty-one members of the Tuesday Book club yesterday. The luncheon was buffet style from a table centered with red roses.

Mrs. Norman L. Wolfe presided for the business session. Mrs. Charles Shafer and Mrs Wade Burleson reported on the book to be placed on the memorial shelf in the library in memory of Mrs. Jay Palmer. The club has selected "Flowers and Color" edited by J. F. Dix and Walter Roozen.

Mrs. Stoodt and Mrs. Wesley Carr were appointed to investigate the Christmas project.

Mrs William Weldon jr., gave a paper on "The Story of Lace," showing lace collected by Mr. Weldon's grandmother There was both needlepoint and bobbin lace in the collection.

The next meeting will be November 30 at the Women's club. Mrs. Leo Wright will be the hostess.

Wesleyan Service Guild Welcomes 3

Three new members, Mrs. Steve Wiess, Mrs. Dorothy Keck and Miss Helen McCauslin were welcomed into the Wesleyan Service guild last night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Fair, 561 Arlington avenue. One guest, Mrs. Clarence Lisle, was present.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Nov. 20 at the parish house. The topic entitled. "Alaska" was given by Miss Ruth Mains. Luncheon was served with Thanksgiving appointments.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 20 at 8 p. m. at the church.

Smith-Sneeringer Nuptials Held At Park Avenue Baptist Church

IN THE PRESENCE of the immediate families Mrs. Ruth E. Smith, 583 Scholl road, and Romaine E. Sneeringer, 501 Sloane avenue, were united in marriage before the altar of the Park Avenue Baptist church on Nov. 14. Dr. W. M. Taylor officiated for the double ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Jack Beasore, daughter of the bride, and Robert Sneeringer, son of the groom.

Simplicity was the keynote of the decorations which consisted of lighted tapers, palms and baskets of mixed flowers.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour of nuptial music was played by Fred Sutcliffe at the organ and vocal numbers were sung by Mrs. James Smith, daughter-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Smith chose for her wedding a street length winter white dress and a white feather hat with black accessories. White and pink shattered carnations composed her corsage.

Mrs. Beasore wore a dress of royal blue crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations and Talisman roses.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of Mrs. Beasore. After a trip through the south Mr. and Mrs. Sneeringer will reside at 501 Sloane avenue. Mrs. Sneeringer is employed at the Mansfield Typewriter company and Mr. Sneeringer is with the Ohio Public Service company.

B'nai Jacob Sisterhood Plans Coming Activities At Temple

MRS. LEONARD HURWITZ presided for the meeting of the B'nai Jacob Sisterhood Tuesday evening at the temple, 50 Sturges avenue. Following prayer a business session was held at which time announcement was made of a bake sale to be held Nov. 24 in charge of Mrs. Jules Glattke.

There will be a card party at the temple on Dec. 5 in charge of Mrs. Jack Cogen and Mrs. Max Meisel. Plans were discussed for the Hanukkah dinner at the Temple on Dec. 29

During the program period Miss Della Buckley entertained with a demonstration on the art of make-up. Mrs. Moshe Goldblum presented current events.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs Cogen, Mrs. Sam Frankel and Mrs. Charles Weinstein. The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 21.

Schedule Given By C. L. of C.

Mrs. John Schweitzer, president, presided over the business meeting of the C. L. of C. Tuesday evening in the clubrooms of the K. of C. home.

The schedule for the remainder of November and December was announced. The members will receive communion November 28 at 7:45 mass. Tuesday, December 7, a card party will be held at the K. of C. home. Mrs Henry Kurtzman and Mrs. Emma Fisher will be the co-chairmen. A supper will be held December 21 at 6:30. This will be the Christmas exchange and election of new officers. The chairmen for the supper are Mrs. Thomas Dillon and Mrs. R. C. Straub.

The group voted to give donations to the new mission church which will be opened in Mt. Gilead by Bishop Ready of Columbus. A group of Mansfield ladies will attend the tea and opening Sunday in Marion.

A contribution to Rev. Father Kuppers in New Mexico is to be sent. This school in New Mexico is sponsored by the C. L. of C.

CARD PARTY MEETING

Mrs. Joseph Bein and Mrs. Joseph Edelstein were hostesses at the 1 o'clock luncheon card party held Tuesday by Temple Emanuel Sisterhood at the Temple on Cook road. Mrs. Leopold Adams and Mrs. John Mintz presided at the table which was centered with fresh fruit.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Kathryn Bernice Knackstedt, bride-elect of Ted Coleman, was feted recently at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Dick Coleman, 136 Harker street. Associate hostess was Mrs. Herbert Coleman.

Fifteen guests were present. Cards were the diversion of the evening.

Luncheon was served at small tables with pink and yellow appointments. Prizes were won by Miss Helen Swanger, Mrs. Lester Hunter and Mrs. Thelma Piper.

Miss Knackstedt and Mr. Coleman will exchange nuptial vows Nov. 20. at 7:30 p. m. at the Grace Episcopal church. Open church will be observed.

Blue Star Mothers To Send Gifts

The Blue Star Mothers met last night at the YMCA with the president, Mrs. J. M. Simpson conducting the meeting.

It was voted to send gifts to the Chillicothe hospital. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Dec. 16.

Officers were nominated and will be elected at the next meeting which will be held Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m.

LEOPARD DUSTER . . Striking new coat with up-or-down collar, back half belt, by Fredrica.

Thanksgiving Dance Planned

St. Peter's Alumni association will hold a Thanksgiving dance, November 24 in the ballroom of the Knights of Columbus home. Dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30 a. m to the music of Nels Blocker and his orchestra.

General chairman of the affair will be Paul McCambridge. Serving with him on the various committees are Robert Schung, Casmir Buzenski, Ray Dillon, William Moody, John Osgar, Ray Baum, Fred Wilkinson, Gerald Risacher, Richard Dalton, Robert Oakes, Donald Smith and Donald Peppers.

The affair is open to all members and their friends.

TO ENTERTAIN

The combined groups of the Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church will entertain their parents at a covered-dish supper in the church parlors, Sunday, Nov. 21, at 5:30 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged.

Linnaeus Garden Club Shown 'Period' Arrangements Tuesday

PERIOD ARRANGEMENTS" was the theme of the program presented to Linnaeus Garden club members Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marion Brinkerhoff, 55 Penn avenue. Mrs. Henry Paulsen conducted the class in various types of arrangements.

She introduced a new item, "Snow-pack," a white sponge-like substance which eliminates the necessity of disturbing arrangements to add water from day to day. It also serves as a holder for flowers.

One of the lovely and unusual arrangements displayed by Mrs. Paulsen was of the Georgian period, placed in a stately green urn type container, filled with white and yellow mums, yellow snapdragons and red roses, with greenery furnished by ivy and perennial pea vines. The French period was shown by red roses and spirial elcalyptus in a delicate satin glass vase. A beautiful antique vase, from Mrs. Guy Shawk's collection, was used to represent the Victorian period.

Other unusual and attractive arrangements included the Colonial in a charming shallow bowl, which had been used as a potato dish. In this were pink and white mums and lemon leaves. Others were a Thanksgiving centerpiece, a Japanese dried arrangements, and a modernistic centerpiece.

Following the luncheon the meeting was opened with the garden club prayer. Mrs. H. M. Spandau spoke on "The Sap-sucker" and Mrs. Carl Spangler presented new conservation measures.

Three new African violets were described by Mrs. Fred Dippman. Mrs. Herman Clingan gave a garden verse, "A Prayer," by Garrison.

Plans were made to hold a box lunch on Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs. Henry Paulsen, 524 Beechwood drive.

Honor Charter Member of Ruth Chapter

Mrs. Jennie Harding, Past Worthy Matron, and the only charter member of Ruth Chapter, No. 17, O.E.S., was the honored guest on Monday evening when the chapter met for the regular meeting at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Harding was presented, given a corsage as a gift from the chapter and escorted to the East. After the initiation service, Mrs. Louisa Ruhl, a Past Matron and present Chaplain, presented Mrs. Harding with her 50 year pin, an honor which is given every member of Eastern Star throughout the state, who have served their chapters for 50 years or longer.

These pins are given by the Grand Chapter of Ohio. Mrs. Forest Domer, Worthy Matron gave her report for the year and was presented with gifts from her officers, as was Virgil Hartman who has served the chapter as Worthy Patron this past year.

A social hour was held in the banquet room, following the meeting. The annual installation of officers will be held on Monday evening Dec 6, when Mrs John Roman and her corps of officers for 1949 will be installed.

Public Library Announces Books For Children For Christmas

BOOKS TELL THE STORY is slogan for Book week this year. Books tell the story of our country, its growth and its glory; books tell the story of people, far and near, like us or different. Books can reveal the wonders of nature and science, of things both large and small. During Book week, many books, new and old, are on display in the Children's room at the Public Library, small display groups that bring out different aspects of the slogan. It is impossible to list, much less to tell anything about each and every book. Every person in Mansfield is invited to come in and see and handle and examine for himself.

One group is called "Gift Specials." These I suggest for Christmas giving. For small children I'm raving about (and giving) Robert McCloskey's BLUEBERRIES FOR SAL. Sal is the cutest little girl to pop up in a picture book for many a long month. The story concerns a mother and child, a bear and her cub who go blueberrying at the same time and get mixed up. The story is silly enough to appeal to children of the picture book age and the pictures are simply priceless. Margaret Brown's LITTLE FIREMAN and Virginia Burtons KATIE AND THE BIG SNOW and attractive picture books that make good gifts, as is Duvoisin's WHITE SNOW, BRIGHT SNOW, which was the 1947 Caldecott book.

For children from 7 or 8 to 10 or 11 I suggest NILS by D'Aulaires, the story of a Norwegian boy who wanted to be a wild west cowboy, or MATILDA'S BUTTONS, Matilda Hunt's newest book, a quiet Quaker story about "nice people." Two very special books, with special appeal are ENCHANTED EVE by Ley and LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS illustrated by James Daugherty. The girst is a lovely book, with pages in different colors, a fantasy for the imaginative girl. The second is the same text with one of Daugherty's mural like drawings for almost every phrase. I would not have thought it possible for anyone or anything to add to Lincoln's words but these pictures do add to the depth of meaning and the interpretation of one of the most famous speeches ever made.

For older children TWENTY-ONE BALLOONS by BuBois (Newberry medal for 1947) the perfect gift. This is a book of rare humor and delight that no one should miss. ISLAND STALLION by Walter Farley is bound to be a hit with Farley fans and all lovers of "horse stories." For people who like truly beautiful books SONG OF ROBIN HOOD illustrated by Virginia Burton is a great gift.

Three of the books mentioned SONG OF ROBIN HOOD, ENCHANTED EVE and the GETTYSBURG address are gifts from Mrs. Ruth Kimmel in memory of her son, Harold, who was killed in the war.

Other displays: "For younger readers" including, GABRIEL CHURCHKITTEN AND THE MOTHS, by Austin, HOOKER'S HOLIDAY, by Bronson, CATS FOR KANSAS by Henderson, and Lois Lenski's NOW IT'S FALL. Each of these is outstanding for humor, pictures or both. There are many new books of the reader type, too.

"Of people like you" includes AZOR by Crowley, the story of a small boy who could talk with animals. SKID, by Hayes, first Negro boy to attend school in the small Connecticut town where his father found work; BOOM TOWN BOY, Lois Lenski's story of the oil fields and what sudden tremendous wealth meant to one family; MISS TIPPY Janet Lambert's new book.

"Of the past" includes biographies and histories and stories. RED EAGLE by Moran, story of Buffalo Bill's adopted son will perhaps be most popular.

"For'doers'" includes some suggestions for making things for Christmas presents as well as books about people who do things.

"Of nature" includes the animal stories, especially a quiz book which is fascinating and informative.

"Of the world" includes geographies as well as stories laid in various countries.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, November 18

THIS should prove to be an unusually intriguing and eventful day, probably arriving by virtue of the ideal, strange, unique and glamorous. There are subtle undercurrents, imbuing the affairs with a tone of the mysterious, inexplicable and challenging. While sordid or regulation business matters may thrive, it is likely that the purely personal may manifest in romance and curious experience in which the element of charm, magnetism and allure are paramount. Parties, social functions and cultural interests are bound to afford much pleasure and be subtly profitable.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a period of the exceptional and novel, in which affairs of an obvious and sordid flavor may not hold appeal.

A child born on this day may possess much talent of an out-of-the-ordinary scope, with personality, glamor and subtlety of intriguing importance.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

See Action On Price Gouging

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Congressional investigators plan today to turn over evidence against unscrupulous car dealers to automobile manufacturers in a nationwide drive to stamp out unfair trade practices.

Rep. Macy (R-NY), chairman of a house subcommittee now conducting a Washington hearing, declared he will enlist the cooperation of parent companies against agencies engaging in price-gouging.

Macy pointed out that complaints against dealers have been received from every section of the country following a subcommittee report that unethical practices cost American car buyers nearly a half-billion dollars in the first seven months of 1948.

Reproaches Justice Department For Ignoring Exposed Traitors

The vigor of the department of justice in prosecuting Congressman Parnell Thomas, the chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities, is a dramatic reproach to the same bureau when we consider the attorney general's iron apathy toward the traitorous conspirators exposed by the Thomas committee. At worst, if he be guilty, Thomas filched a few thousand dollars and did that under a logical, if rather daring, extension of the common practise of nepotism on Capitol Hill.

On the other hand, dozens of individuals, planted in secret recesses of the government were stoutly accused by stand-by witnesses of betraying the United States of the Russian enemy. The Department of Justice has ignored these cases.

Even Russian aliens implicated in the same band of conspirators have not been molested. And a few days ago Tom Clark, the attorney general, and Mrs. Clark, were photographed in happy social doings of the Soviet embassy. This was appeasement on a personal plane but the bait of a snifter of vodka and a hod of caviar at this outpost of the Kremlin is irresistible to most democrats and the more so to their wives. Such susceptibility is not, as the lawyers say, actionable.

Thomas is charged with defrauding the government by kickbacks from real persons who were fictitious employees. He is a rotund hick of a vanishing American type whose social errors in the examination of witnesses were the honest patriotic blurts of the typical main street insurance man, druggist or service stationist.

It was not by his doing that congressional procedure waived the tricky legalistic tangles of the courts. This method of getting information was there when Thomas became chairman of the committee, established, tested, and vindicated long ago. He just made use of it and the gruesome fact is that for all his prejudice against traitors and spies, he is no less judicial and fair than many of the fully articled judges of the federal courts now sitting.

The kick-back of pay has been common practise in congress for decades. I dare say Mr. Clark, himself, has paid his tithe to his party for years, failing which he would be a miracle man deserving the dribbling adulation of Henry Wallace. All politicians pay it to their parties and President Truman sat on a county board in Kansas City which collected for the Pendergast machine a bounty called lug on every dollar spent for public improvements. His personal abstention from lug is interesting but doesn't amount to formal condemnation of lug as lug.

The late Ray Clapper once defeated many members of congress up for re-election by exposing in print, the fraud, or, in a sweeter word, white craft, which had become a firm auxilliary to the family income of statesmen on the hill. The racket is still standard practise, no more discountenanced by public opinion than looting by major generals.

Actually, the institution of nepotism is rockribbed in govern ment and in the big unions almost all of which now support dynastic families of parasites. It has never been more flagrantly practised than by the late Roosevelt. He loaded the government rolls with his son, Jimmy, at $10,000 to fetch him out of mischief in Boston, with an impecunious she-cousin at $6,000 whose duty ostensibly was to choose pretty chintzes for our far-flung embassies and old uncle Fred Delano.

Uncle Fred was barnacled onto the National Resources planning board, with a room in the state department. From this office he used to write evasive letters to naive investors in the bonds of a scab coal mine in the Pennsylvania fields which the family owned and operated. The bondholders took a neat shellacking according to the family tradition but the episode found the attorney-general's office too heavily concerned to pay it any mind.

Army Brass Hats Angered By Leak On Meeting of Coordinating Body

Army brass is fuming over the leak in Sec'y Forrestal's office on a meeting the other day of the State-Army-Navy-Air Force Co-ordinating Committee. . . . An attempt was made to lay the groundwork for a new Gov't Dept. of Internal Security. . . . As evidence of what could be done, the Central Intelligence Agency was cited as an example. . . . This agency (a hangover of OSS) is slated for drastic overhauling if Congress can ever get access to the reported evidence of its ineffectiveness.

Farmers Pick AAA Committees

Tabulate Ballots Next Weduesday

Ballots for the election of community committeemen of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration have been sent to 1,694 farmers in Richland county's 18 townships.

Voters can return the ballots by mail to the AAA office. Results of the election will be determined Nov. 24 when the votes are counted at a meeting open to the public. The count will be made by farmers eligible to vote, but present committeemen and those nominated for the election are barred from participating in the count.

Five committeemen are to be elected from each township. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes from a township will automatically become chairman of the committee. The next highest will be vice chairman, third highest will be a regular committeeman, and the fourth and fifth highest will become alternates.

10 NOMINEES CHOSEN

A slate of 10 nominees has been prepared for each township. The men were nominated by a committee of three persons in each township. The nominating committees were selected by the county committee.

All Richland county farmers who have applied for farm-price support are eligible to vote. Ballots may be cast in the AAA office, 55 North Diamond street, instead of being returned by mail.

Farmers who mail their ballots were warned by the AAA office to write their names and townships on the envelopes in which they are sent, not on the ballots themselves. Regulations say the ballots must be secret, AAA officials explained, and names or other identifying marks on the ballots invalidate them.

Yesterday 94 of the ballots had been returned. Last year, in a similar election, 394 votes were cast. It was the first year the voting had been carried on by mail. Prior to last year community committeemen had been elected at meetings.

DUTIES EXPLAINED

Community committeemen act as contact men for the county AAA office. They explain the farmers in their townships and assist them with their applications. Bulletins originating in Washington reach individual farmers through information conveyed by the committeemen.

They receive no pay unless they are called into the AAA office for special meetings.

A point stressed by the office was that in cases where a farmer works a farm for an owner, both farmer and owner are entitled to a vote. In cases of corporation-owned farms, however, only one rperesentative of the corporation is eligible to vote.

Springfield township leads the county in the number of eligible voters with 139. Washington township is a close second with 138, and Jefferson township is third with 133.

Illinois Man Surrenders Here

William W. Ohl, jr., 22, of Assumption, Ill., was held in county jail today for Christian county (Ill.) authorities, after giving himself up to Sheriff Frank E. Robinson last night.

Sheriff Robinson said Ohl walked in the office about 9 p.m. and stated that he was wanted by Christian county authorities for signing a worthless check for $70.

Notified that Ohl was in custody here, Christian county official said they would return him to Illinois.

GET TIPS ON MEAT CUTTING—Mansfield area meat dealers saw a demonstration of modern meat cutting methods last night at the Sons of Herman hall. John C. Milton, right, of the American Meat Institute, lectures while William Marshall of Canton works on a quarter of beef.

Meat-Buying Tips Offered

100 Merchants See Demonstration

Urging butchers to give their customers more help in selection of meat cuts, John C. Milton, of the American Meat institute, last night told 100 Mansfield area food merchants some of the fine points of meat marketing. He spoke at Sons of Herman hall.

Milton said it was the "first group of merchants in the United States to participate in a meeting of this kind."

He told his audience how the food merchants can do a better job of serving their patrons.

"Every cut of meat contains the same food value," he said. "There is as much vitamin B-1 in one pork chop as in the average vitamin pill.

Pointing out that 'when you buy meat, you buy health," he urged butchers to give housewives advice on cooking various cuts of meat. He stressed efficiency in cutting beef.

The meeting was highlighted by a beef-cutting demonstration by William Marshall, of Canton. The show was sponsored by the Sugardale Provision company, of Canton, through the Mansfield Grocers Institute.

Other similar meetings are scheduled here. The next, on "Fresh Fruits and Vegetables," will be held soon after the first of the year.

Soil Group Sets Parley

The Richland county soil conservation steering committee will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in the county agent's office to make plans for electing a board of supervisors.

County Agent C. N. McGrew, who made the announcement, said five supervisors will be elected to handle the soil conservation program.

McGrew said he had received a letter from W. B. Wood, secretary of the Ohio Soil Conservation committee, declaring Richland county a soil conservation district. The letter gave authority to go ahead with plans for an election of supervisors.

Richland county landowners on Oct. 22 gave overwhelming approval to the establishment of the district. The vote was 481 for and only 23 against.

Family of 4 Doesn't Worry Young Father

"I ain't worried a bit."

That was the answer of James Arthur Clay, 22, yesterday when asked about the responsibility of four small children, a 205-acre farm and a job at the Westinghouse on his hands.

It's a situation that would make many an older man blink a little, but Clay takes it all in stride.

His wife, Norma, became the mother of her third and fourth children in People's hospital, Akron, twin girls arriving last Thursday. Mrs. Clay is not quite 20. She was married at 16. Her husband was interviewed yesterday at the Westinghouse plant, where he works.

Five months ago, Clay rented a 205-acre farm in the Glenmont area near Loudonville. His wife and children lived with him there until the time for Mrs. Clay's confinement neared. Then she and the two older children James jr., 30 months old, and Diana, 13 months, went to Akron to stay with her parents.

Clay drives back and forth from his farm every day to work the late shift on a punch press at Westinghouse.

"But how are you going to work a 205-acre farm and keep your job at the Westinghouse?" Clay was asked.

TOO MUCH TO FARM

"Well, I don't aim to farm all that," he answered. "I'll rent out most of it if I can find someone who wants the fields. But I've always wanted to live in the country and have a garden and a cow and, anyway, I think it's a good place to bring up four children."

His young wife agrees with him. In about six weeks she'll take her family and go to the farm.

"What do you think of the size of your family?" Clay was asked.

"Well, I guess its about right. Four are as many as we want. But they make a nice little family. I'm happy about it."

Baby Bank, Trousers Looted By Robbers

Theft of $15 from a baby bank and $10 in bills from a trousers pocket was reported to police late yesterday by Verne Christ, rear 381 Wayne street.

Christ told police someone entered his unlocked trailer the previous night and took the cash.

Death Takes Clair DePue

Clair Albert DePue, 78, of 151 West Third street died at his home this morning. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. DePue, uncle of the late W. A. DePue, was born in Mansfield Feb. 1, 1870. He was an engineer with the old Aultman-Taylor company of Mansfield and worked as an engineer in Cleveland for 24 years. He returned to Mansfield in 1930 and had been retired since that time.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanette Heiss DePue, and several nieces and nephews.

Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will conduct funeral services at the Jones Memorial at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home until time of services.

Mrs. Touby, 81 Dies In Home

Mrs. Lavinia Touby, 81, of 563 South Diamond street, widow of J. E. Touby, died unexpectedly last night at her home.

Born Feb. 1, 1867, in Washington township and a life-long resident of this area, Mrs. Touby was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical church in Washington township.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. S. J. Shadel, at home; five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Friday with Rev. John C. Melchert officiating. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery in Washington township.

TICKETS IN DEMAND

Ralph Hughes, secretary of the SPEBSKSA, Inc., has an idea that the "Parade of Quartets" extravaganza to be presented Dec. 4 is going to be a success. Hughes said today he had sent out 39 tickets in response to phone calls and letters, two of the letters coming from Mt. Vernon and Elyria. He said 10 tickets were purchased by residents north of Mansfield who missed the SPEBSQSA minstrel show because they were too late in getting tickets. Hughes said tickets may be purchased from any member, and that later tickets will go on sale at several downtown spots. The show will be offered simultaneously at John Simpson and at Senior high auditoriums.

PICTURE PROOF—

During a discussion of the Mansfield traffic program at a meeting last night, City Electrician Ernie Adams was asked how old the city lights were. "Why they've been there since old Co. M marched off to the Mexican border in 1916." And to prove it, he produced a post card photograph today, showing soldiers marching down Olive street to the depot. Councilman George Kyle, not to be outdone in the laugh-provoking department, answered a question about what was being done about street lighting with the remark, "We're still busy cutting down trees trying to find the street lights hidden by the foliage."

Four Gunmen Escape Net

MARIETTA —(AP)— Four men who fled the Perry county jail Monday were believed to have escaped capture by a sheriff's posse last night.

State highway patrolmen, police and deputy sheriff surrounded a vacant house near Cutler, O., in Washington county, after reports had been received the men were in the county.

The sheriff's office here reported this morning it had evidence the escapees probably were in the house for a short time. They said one of the four had sold a stolen shotgun in the vicinity, and that election campaign match books of Sheriff Clair Butts of Perry county had been found in the house.

Motorist Files $5,000 Action

Elmer R. Fisher, Mansfield, R. D. 1, yesterday filed a $5,000 damage action in common pleas court as the result of an traffic accident last Aug. 23 north of Mansfield.

Named defendants in the suit were Don McBride, a minor, and A. R. McBride, both of Mansfield, R. D. 1. The petition said Don McBride was driving a car which collided with one in which Fisher was a passenger. Fisher charged McBride was driving at excessive speed.

St. Peter's Pupils Given Vacation

Students at St. Peter's parochial school are enjoying a holiday today while their teachers attend an all-day meeting in Tiffin.

The meeting is being attended by all elementary and high school teachers of Catholic schools in the diocese, which includes Shelby, Toledo, Lima, Mansfield and Payne.

Ashland Team Asks Opponent

Funds Would Aid Injured Center

ASHLAND — A benefit Thanksgiving football game opponent is being sought by Ashland college in an attempt to raise funds to aid Russell Cook, 21, GI student from Mansfield, who suffered a broken neck in Saturday's game with Hiram college.

George Donges, coach of the Ashland team, expects to find an opponent by this afternoon. If necessary, the coach intends booking the game on a Mansfield gridiron. The team enjoyed its most successful football season this year and the Hiram victory closed the regular season.

Cook was removed from Good Samaritan hospital here to Crile hospital in Cleveland, where he underwent surgery Sunday for a crushed vertebra.

He is expected to be in a cast for 14 weeks. Attaches at Crile told Donges yesterday that Cook's condition was satisfactory.

PLAYED CENTER

Cook played center on the Ashland eleven and was injured making a tackle in a game at Ashland Saturday.

The wife of the injured gridder, Phyllis, is a nurse at Mansfield General hospital and is at his bedside in Cleveland. The Cooks are expecting a baby in six months. The Cooks reside at 475 South Diamond street, Mansfield.

Agitation for the fund started on the campus when fellow gridders suggested student contributions, but the coach proposed the benefit game as an alternative that should swell the receipts.

3 Youths Penalized

Three youths lost their right to drive for periods of one to four years after they were found guilty in juvenile court yesterday afternoon of violating traffic laws. All were arrested by Mansfield police.

Arthur Dean Decker, 17, of Shiloh, R. D. 2, confessed to driving a car while under the influence of alcohol last Sunday afternoon.

Acting Juvenile Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch revoked the youth's license for four years. A fine of $25 was suspended on condition Decker pay for damages to Arthur H. DeHart, of 92 Marshall avenue, whose car he struck.

Frank Plaut, 16, of 429 Davis road, charged with unsafe operation last Friday, lost his right to drive for three years. He confessed to the charges.

Edward Locke, 17, of 34 Bahl avenue, lost the right to drive for one year when he was found guilty of speeding. Locke had pleaded innocent.

Police said he was driving a jeep at the rate of 45 miles per hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone, last Friday.

Police Nab Armed Man

A 31-year-old South Main street man, taken into custody last night in possession of a loaded pistol, was held in city jail for investigation today.

Also held was his companion, a 22-year-olid East Fourth street youth.

Police said they picked up the pair just north of the Ritz theater on North Main street. Officers added the .32 calibre gun the South Main street man had was loaded with five bullets and that six other shells were found in his pocket.

First shell in the gun, police said, was criss-crossed "dum-dum" fashion on the lead nose, which would have caused the bullet to open up as it made contact.

Senior High Meets Another Unbeaten Club

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

FROM THE MAIL BAG:

Dear Fred:

Martins Ferry has had many bigger, more powerful clubs than the current one, but never has a Purple Rider team packed more all-over speed or a more diversified attack.

Ferry can operate from most any formation in the book and has shown strength both on the ground and in the air. It's largely a senior team, 12 members of the squad being fourth-year men and nine of them will start against the Tygers.

Ferry's biggest asset has been its balance. It has not been a team led by any single standout.

Coach Fred Thomas will be honored by fans here before the game Friday night. They're going to surprise him with a gift. He's been in coaching 20 years now. A graduate of Martin's Ferry high school and Washington & Jefferson college, he coached at little Adena for five years and then moved to Ferry as an assistant. He was promoted to head coach in 1943.

In Friday's game, the Riders will be trying for their first unbeaten season since 1941. Gomer Jones, the ex-Ohio State All-American who is now line coach at Oklahoma, directed the Purple to 10 straight wins that year. This brought an invitation to Toledo's Glass Bowl, where a heavy Libbey team was battled to a 14-14 tie. Lou Groza was on Ferry's team that year.

Sincerely,
BILL VAN HORNE
Sports Editor,
Martins Ferry Times-Leader.

HAMILTON surrendered more than its undefeated football record last week. . . . The torrid Mansfield Tygers held the Big Blue to their lowest point total of the season—20. . . . The previous mark of 31 was set by Zanesville. . . . Mansfield's 27 points were also the most scored on Hamilton this year. . . . Middletown squeezed past Hamilton as the scoring leader. . . . The Middies have 368 points to 361 for the Blue.

★

GALLIPOLIS, a team finishing its season with nine straight wins, copped defensive laurels with only 18 points being scored against it. . . . Both Martins Ferry and Coldwater have allowed 19. . . . Michigan in eight games this season has run up a yardage total of 2,448 to its opponents' 1,645. . . . The Wolves have passed for 14 touchdowns to only three for their opponents.

Michigan State's All Dressed Up

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(U.P.)—Officials at Michigan State college admitted today that they were all dressed up in their New Year's day duds and just waiting for some place to go.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Young, who played a big part in the Spartans drive for football recognition this year, admitted that his team would like nothing better than a post-season game. But so far, he said, nobody has mailed any fancy invitations to East Lansing.

Bruisers Battle To Rugged Draw

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The Alabama Kid and Lee Q. Murray of the Bronx fought to a draw last night at Memorial Hall in a slashing, bruising 10-round battle that had only one knockdown, a nine-counter.

The kid from Columbus hit Murray with lefts and rights to the head and body in the fifth round after first being staggered by the New Yorker Murray just reached his feet before being counted out.

Ferry Team Has Copped 8 and Tied 1

Mansfield Senior high school's fine football team has its work cut out for the second straight week.

Last week, the Tygers provided Ohio's biggest upset in defeating a great Hamilton team, 27 to 20. The immediate assignment Friday night at Martins Ferry looms even tougher. The Ferry club is unbeaten in nine games and has as tough a defense as any team in Ohio.

Only blot on the Ferry record is a 0-to-0 tie with Triadelphia, West Virginia. The Triads are rated as the best team in the Mountaineer state. In that game, the Purple Riders piled up 12 first downs to six for Triadelphia and amassed twice as many yards.

FERRY RECORD

Remainder of the Martins Ferry record follows: Ferry 45, Odena 0; Ferry 46, Bridgeport 0; Ferry 19, Wheeling 6; Ferry 32; Mingo 6; Ferry 33; Bellaire 9; Ferry 13, East Liverpool 7; Ferry 20, Steubenville 0; Ferry 33, Linsly Military Institute 0.

In the nine games, the Purple Riders have scored 241 points to 19 for the opposition. Senior high is not far behind on offense with 238 points. However, the Tygers have permitted 131 markers.

Ferry probably packs more all-over speed than the Bengals and has a slight 165.8 to 164.3 bulge in the weight department. Up front, Ferry averages 174 to 165.3 for the Tygers. Mansfield has a big advantage in the backfield, 162.5 to 151.5 for the Ferrians.

Although the Ohio river team runs plays from almost any formation, it prefers the single wing and T formation. The backfield shapes up with Bob Joseph, 153; Fred Bruney, 150; Dick Duncan, 152, and Alex Komos, 151. Duncan plays under the center in the T and right-half in the single-wing.

OFFENSIVE STUFF

Bruney, who runs from left-half on all formations, is the offensive star, and a triple-threater. He has scored 90 points and plays safety man on defensive. Joseph is a slightly better punter and passer than Bruney. He also kicks the extra points.

End Dick Thomas, son of Ferry Coach Fred Thomas, is probably the outstanding lineman on the squad. He put on one of the finest individual performances ever seen in Arlin field last year when Ferry knocked off the Tygers, 12 to 0.

Thomas (162), Bruney, Jack Eden, 175-pound tackle; Joe DeFede, 210-pound guard, and Fred Groux, 184-pound tackle are the only Ferry 1947 regulars still on the squad. Thomas, DeFede and Eden are all playing their third year of varsity ball.

Joseph, Duncan and Ed "Pepper" Bruney, 177-pound guard, subbed against the Bengals last year. Joseph and Komons are the only juniors in the Ferry starting lineup.

Rodger Thomas, twin-brother of Dick, may see some action at end. He was sidelined by polio all last season.

Bucyrus Football Game Called Off

BUCYRUS — Cancellation of the Bucyrus Green Hornets-Columbus Athletic club semi-pro football game, scheduled tonight in Upper Sandusky, has been announced by Robert Friend, Hornets' business manager.

The Hornets will close their season next Sunday when they meet the Sandusky Maroons at Sandusky. The local team has a season record of eight wins and two losses.

Game Shifted

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Because of Saturday classes at John Carroll university, the Great Lakes bowl game will be played Sunday, Dec. 5, instead of Dec 4, as originally scheduled Canisus is the other team.

NEW RAM CAPTAIN—Russell Glenn (right), newly-elected captain of the 1949 Madison football squad, receives congratulations from retiring Captain Don Morris. Glenn, a 160-pound junior who played in two games of varsity football, was elected yesterday at a meeting of lettermen. Glenn started the season as the regular left end but was sidelined with a broken ankle in the second game.

Two Plant Bowlers Dent Maple Honor Roll Listing

Two inter-plant leagues came through where the others failed on Mansfield bowling lanes last night.

Only two honor roll scores were reported and one came from each of the Westinghouse "C" and Mansfield Tire circuits. Two other leagues at Colony and a pair at Richland failed to dent the mark.

Best score of the night was Dale Shipley's 220-166-233—619 posted in the Westinghouse loop. W. Hattman was runner-up with a 567 count followed by a 560 by Nick Komjenovich. R. Page had 543, and W. White and L. Mantel, 538's.

★

F. Miller was the honor roll kegler among the Tiremen as he knocked over 218-183-215—616. J Lorentz was the league's No. 2 man with 567 while a 566 by L. Linkhart and a 555 by C. Bauer followed. C. McMullen had 540; C. Ford, 533; R. Hannahs, 531 and Skeets Wolf 528.

★

Mansfield Upholstering climbed into a tie first place in the Transportation league as Schmid's Tire ran into a stubborn Geiger Distributing team which posted the high team score of the night, 2,447.

Schmid's did manage to win two of three games to maintain a share in the league. Upholstering meanwhile romped to a sweep over Hartman Electric. Geiger's is one game off the pace.

Individual leader was Andy Bessler of the Teamsters who scattered the maples for a 123-245-192—560 score, taking down both single game and series honors.

Tony Gerger cut wood for 531, followed by Forsythe, 526; Jack Miner, 521; and C. Messner, 508.

★

Competition was keen in the Elks league with Charles Roby showing the way with 175-145-243—563. Bill Daugherty posted 185-169-201—555 while C. H. Heaton turned in 554. Louis Piller fired 553, Don Dancer, 542, and Paul Herlihy, 529.

★

B. Ballengee of Ritz Night club paced the Richland C league with a 211-151-172—534. Dennis E. Berry was the only other man past the 500 mark as he came in with 513. R. Krumm had 509; Delmer Berry, J. Foster and Carl Lucas 494.

★

The Richland B league was led by Gene Rudolph of Charm Fashion with a 540 while News-Journal Outdoor Writer Don Miller fired a 537. Charles Ludwig, also of Charm Fashion, hit 524 and Bill Distl, 518.

That Big Bowl Fad Reaches Way Up to 32

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The post-season bowl game fad has had such fantastic growth that 32 games with probable attendance in excess of 800,000 have been arranged from Thanksgiving day to New Year's day, a United Press survey showed today.

That record total includes games in every section of the nation but New England with crowds ranging from 90,000 in the "granddaddy" Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Cal., on New Year's day, down to a few scattered thousands in some of the lesser extravaganzas.

Many of the opponents for the games already have been selected, but for the major attractions the final lineup won't be determined until after next Saturday's games in which conference and sectional honors will be at stake.

TOP THREE NOT IN

However, under no circumstances will the nation's three top teams, Michigan, Notre Dame, and Army, indulge in any kind of post season competition.

Michigan, which has clinched a tie for the Big Nine title, is denied a repeat trip to the Rose Bowl under terms of the pact between its conference and the Pacific coast loop. Army and Notre Dame are flatly opposed to post-season competition.

Excluding these titans, the most likely lineup for the major New Year's day games as of today appears to be California vs. Northwestern in the Rose Bowl, Tulane vs. North Carolina in the Sugar, Michigan State vs. Oklahoma in the Orange, and Clemson vs. Southern Methodist in the Cotton.

Lexington 5 Wins First Cage Game

Lexington opened its basketball season with a 52-25 victory over Jefferson Rural of Leesville last night in the Crestline gym.

The Minutemen, defending champions of the Richland county league, took the lead early in the first quarter and were never in trouble. They also won the reserve game, 29-12.

Tonight, Lexington will make its first appearance before the home fans by meeting an alumni quintet composed of many of the stars from last year's team.

Coach Don Sutter has a job on his hands in attempting to rebuild the quintet with only four lettermen on the roster. Rollin Ford and his league-leading 19.8 point average will be on the alumni side tonight.

Two of the returning vets were given honorable mention for News-Journal all-county honors, however. They are Center Dick Dill and Guard John Wirick. Don Wirick and Tom Tupps are the other two monogram winners. Tupps carried a 10.2 average while Dill had 8.8. Both got 16 last night.

The two Wiricks have been awarded the regular guard posts with Dill at the pivot. Tupps, Ronald Bender and Dick Cline will alternate at the two forward slots. Two juniors, Paul Fisher and Don Boylan, are coming fast and pressing the regulars according to Sutter.

A total of 24 boys are working for places on the varsity and reserve squads. Only four, Bender, Dill, Tupps and Wirick, are seniors.

Other squad members include: juniors, Walter Cashell and Jim Haring; sophomores, Frank Haring, Al Hess, Don Mills, Cloyd Hurler, Otey Kinton, Norman Kiser and Olen Terman, and freshmen, Roger Balph, Fred Ford, Harold Bachelder, Don Horrell, Fred McLaughlin and Bob Rinehart.

Steve Or Joe Padre Pilot?

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Steve O'Neill and Joe Vosmik today were considered possible managerial choices for the San Diego Padres, Pacific Coast league club which has signed a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians.

Vice-President Hank Greenberg of the Indians announced the agreement in New York yesterday and said it was likely that a member of the Tribe organization would be selected as Padre pilot.

O'Neill, recently fired as manager of the Detroit Tigers, is not in the Cleveland fold now, but Indian President Bill Veeck has said he wanted to find a spot in the system for him.

Vosmik, former Tribe star, was manager of Dayton last year and Tucson before that. He had considerable success with both of the Tribe farm clubs.

Will Drop Crown

NEW YORK—(INS)—Sugar Ray Robinson will surrender his world's welterweight title if he is given a chance at Marcel Cerdan's middleweight crown. This announcement was made today by George Gainsford, Robinson's manager.

Citation Makes Safe Trip Across Country

SAN BRUNO, Cal.—(INS)—Citation, the nation's champion race horse, was safely bedded down at Tanforan race track today after a cross-country rail trip in his special car from Maryland.

The Calumet Farm's wonder horse is entered in the $50,000 Tanforan handicap to be run Dec. 11.

Kelly Returns

Right Winger Roy Kelly, shelved for the last three games by a knee injury, will return to the Baron lineup when Cleveland faces Springfield at Springfield tonight.

New York Cage Five Helps Open Season

Mansfield's 1948-49 basketball season will be ushered in tonight with the famed New York Renaissance quintet set as the feature attraction.

The Rens—for 25 years a top basketball attraction—will meet a City A league all-star team in Senior high gym following a 7:45 preliminary between Komito's Clothes and Ashland Myers Pump.

The All-Star term itself will be a formidable aggregation with defending champion Urschel Insurance as a nucleus .

SHADE LEADS TEAM

Bob Shade, manager of the Urchel Insurance team will be in charge of the all-stars, it was announced today by City Recreation Director Stan Kamen. The Recreation department is sponsoring the game as an official opening for the city basketball program.

Nick Gagich, all-Ohio at Senior high last year, has been added to the hold-over roster of Bob Nikolaus, Jim Robertson, Wayne Hough, Dick Flockenzier, Lee Crownover, Frank Jocha and Bob Caldwell.

Other members of the all-stars will be Dick Casad, Jack Hammett, Ed Chatlain, Wilbur Wade and Dick Roberts. Madison coach Ennis Walker, although an Urschel player, will not play in the game.

The Rens boast of the longest consecutive run of any professional cage team and have played before two million fans during their activity. At one time they won 88 consecutive games.

FROM ALL OVER

The personnel of the squad has been drawn from all over the country. Of the first seven squad members to come here, three are New Yorkers, two are from the South, and one player each from Ohio and Indiana. Duke Cumberland, the Buckeye, was a Toledo Libbey high school star. He stands six feet two and plays guard. Nearly all of the Rens are well above the six-foot mark with 6-6 Hank DeZonie topping the squad. DeZonie, one of the younger members of the team, jumps center. Others on the squad are Sonny Wood, Pop Gates, George Crowe, Jim Usry, and Hank Sealy.

Although advance ticket sale has been light, a near-capacity crowd is expected to jam the gym for the contest. Joe Atton and John Hoffman will officiate.

Basketball Bops, Tootler Topples

ST. LOUIS —(U.P.)— Pat Kennedy, chief referee of the Basketball Association of America, fell unconscious after a freak accident during the St. Louis Bomber-Boston Celtics game last night.

Kennedy was hit in the mouth by the ball when Bomber Don Putman threw it into the court from out of bounds. He suffered shock when his whistle jammed against his false teeth, which loosened and struck his palate. He was carried from the floor, but was able to walk after the game.

Buckeyes Best In Conference Grid Offense

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO —(AP)— Hurricane Harry Szulborski, Purdue's 170-pound halfback from Detroit, appears certain to win the 1948 Big Nine ball carrying championship.

This would be one of the outstanding feats of the grid campaign, since the hard-driving junior toils with a team that has won only three of eight starts.

With only the Indiana game Saturday remaining, Szulborski has punched 434 net yards in 91 trips for a 4.7 average. In yards gained he holds a 62-yard lead over Northwestern's fiery fullback, Art Murakowski, and an 82-yard edge over third place Joe Whisler of Ohio State.

Murakowski has plawed 372 yards for a 5.2 average in 71 carries while Whisler has belted 352 for 4.1. The former winds up his bid against Illinois Saturday while the latter goes against Michigan.

Best rushing average of 8.3 is held by Iowa's Ralph Doran, a senior playing his first year of football. But he has lugged the ball only 28 times.

WOLVERINE TOPS

Michigan's sensational sophomore, Chuck Ortmann, tops the passers with 27 out of 51 completions for 494 yards and five touchdowns. This aerial yardage, linked with Ortmann's rushing gain of 189, gives the Wolverine halfback top honors in total offense.

Minnesota's Ev Faunce is ranked second among passers with 28 out of 56 connections for 349 yards and two touchdowns. Faunce also is second in total offense with a net of 593.

Michigan is the No. 1 defensive team, yielding only 58.2 yards rushing. Its Saturday foe, Ohio State, enters the grand finale as the best offensive club with a crushing ground attack averaging 228.8 yards.

The Buckeyes have averaged a total gain of 318.4 yards per game, compared with Michigan's 305. Ohio State's opponents have averaged 213.2 while the Wolverines have limited foes to 201.2.

Telegraphic Poll

SAN FRANCISCO —(U.P.)— Ignoring Oregon demands for a play-off game with California, Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt said today that a telegraphic vote to select the western Rose bowl representative would start immediately after Saturday's games.

Louis Goes Up Against Jim Bivins

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis resumes his exhibition tour tonight against Jimmy Bivins, a fellow he once regarded as the logical contender for his crown.

Five years ago a meeting between Louis and the Cleveland Negro might have produced plenty of fireworks in the ring, but the setting is different now.

Tonight's bout is a six-round no-decision affair with pillow-like 12-ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight.

The only way Bivins can win is by a knockout or a technical knockout—and on the basis of Bivins' recent record that prospect is considerably less than likely.

Bivins' handlers report he has been training faithfully for this bout because he realizes it's a last ditch effort to regain his former standing among the heavies.

Louis says if Bivins does well enough tonight he might give him a shot for the title in New York next June.

Some figures: Louis is 34; Bivins 28; Louis will weigh about 220; Bivins about 185.

Columbus Goes Into Grid Dither

By JOHN FRYE

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The capital of the sovereign state of Ohio is going into its annual Michigan game dither—this time with extra zip.

The tom-toms are beating—with fervor if not conviction — "beat Michigan, beat Michigan," all along High street from the campus through downtown.

All it means is that the Ohio State university Buckeyes meet the Michigan Wolverines—generally regarded as the nation's No. 1 team—this Saturday. The Buckeyes go into the game with the odds against them. Pools around town are spotting the Buckeyes 14 points.

Coach Wesley Fesler himself, who brought the Buckeyes up from nowhere last season to a telescope shot at the Rose Bowl, says that on paper, the Buckeyes "don't even belong on the same field with them."

"But," Fesler told a homecoming banquet last night, "there is something more to the game and that is attitude. Our team has that. No one can convince me that our boys don't have a chance."

So, the Buckeyes await the game with the idea that if Truman could do it, why can't they?

Possibly 85,000 people will see whether they can in the big Ohio stadium with its official capacity of 76,677. Both Mutual and NBC networks are going to carry the full game to other thousands from coast to coast.

Meanwhile the city and Ohio are working themselves up. There will be a parade and enough fanfare between Friday and game-time to daze a Roman emperor.

The team itself is taking it easy. Not resting on its laurels for winning all but two of its games so far this year, but not taking any chances on anybody being hurt before the game.

What the game seems to boil down to is that the western conference's best passing squad comes to town to meet the second-best pass defense team.

In five conference games the two teams have played three common opponents, Northwestern, Illinois and Indiana. Michigan also has played Minnesota and Purdue and Ohio State has played Iowa and Wisconsin.

The Wolverines, paced by Charlie Ortman, have averaged 158 yards a game on passes.

The Buckeye defense has yielded only 56.6 yards a game on opposition passes, or six yards more than Northwestern.

Irish Boss Chosen As 'Top' Coach

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — His boys haven't lost a football game since 1943, and they wouldn't have been defeated that year had the season ended 30 seconds sooner.

And in what probably was the toughest game he had been through since that time, his ever-fightin' Irish came through when they had to, tying the school's all-time record for consecutive victories set under the immortal Knute Rockne.

He's the United Press coach of the week, Frank Leahy of Notre Dame.

CALLS THE TURN

At a school where victory is so commonplace it is taken for granted, he has become legendary for his pessimism, but this time he called the turn correctly when he said of the keyed-up Northwestern Wildcats:

"We'll be lucky to win by one point."

He was absolutely right—Notre Dame was lucky to win at all in its last period drive which netted a touchdown and a thrilling 12 to 7 triumph.

Leahy made the remark to reporters before the game, admitting as he said it that "this may cause me to lose my audience."

That Northwestern victory, the 20th straight and the 26th without defeat for Leahy since he returned from the Navy in 1946, enabled this great Irish crew to tie identical marks set by the old master, Rockne, with his national championship elevens of 1928, '29 and '30, on which Leahy was a star tackle. A Leahy-coached Irish 11 hasn't been beaten since Great Lakes won in the last 30 seconds in 1940.

WANTS WOLVERINES

Despite reports to the contrary, Leahy still would like to play Michigan in a game to settle the national championship argument that has been raging for two years.

"We'd like to play Michigan any time, anywhere and for anything," he said. "But we haven't been able to arrange it. We'd probably get beat, but we'd still like to play."

Wesley Fesler Features Fete

BUCYRUS — Wesley Fesler, head football coach at Ohio State university, will be the principal speaker at a banquet for Bucyrus high school's undefeated football team to be held at the high school Friday night, Nov. 26.

During the banquet, varsity and reserve letters will be presented to members of the squad by Coach Al Pesek.

Arrangements for the banquet are in charge of the Redmen's Booster club. Harold Kibler, father of Dick and Bill Kibler, flashy halfbacks, is president of the club.

The Redmen captured the Northern Ohio League championship and ended the season with a record of eight wins and one tie.
